ITEM 1
THE FRANCHISOR AND ANY PARENTS, PREDECESSORS & AFFILIATES

Terminology.

In this Franchise Disclosure Document, "we", "us", "our", "TKH" or "Franchisor" means TKH Franchising, Inc. We refer to the person or entity who buys the Franchise as 'you,' 'your,' or 'Franchisee,' in this Disclosure Document. If you are a corporation or limited liability Company or other entity, "you" refers collectively to all persons who own an interest in the entity. Any entity such as corporations, partnerships, limited liability companies or other type of entity may be referred to as an "Entity" and those who own the Entity may be referred to as "Owners".

The Company, Our Predecessors and Affiliates.

We are a California corporation, incorporated on February 29, 2012. We do business under the name "TKH Franchising, Inc." We may also use the name "TechKnowHow" or "TechKnowHow Kids". Our business address is 553 Pilgrim Drive Suite D, Foster City, California94404.We have offered franchises for the operation of a business known as "TechKnowHow®" since September 12, 2012 (the "Business" or "Franchise"). The business offers engineering and technology project-based programs onsite, within a protected territory. This is the first time TKH has offered franchises of the type described in this Disclosure Document and TKH has never offered franchises in any other business.Our agents for service of process are disclosed in Exhibit B.

We do not currently operate a TechKnowHow franchise. Our affiliate, TechKnowHow, Inc., a California corporation (TKH1) operates a business that offers similar services to a TechKnowHow® franchised business. The following is a list of TKH's predecessors and affiliates including addresses and number of locations for each.

Bob Mancini began operations on December 15, 1994 as a sole proprietor and reorganized to form our affiliate TKH1 on January 22, 2003 (into which the sole proprietorship business was transferred). TKH1 shares the same address as us and operates a business substantially similar to the franchise business being offered by us. We and TKH1are independent entities and TKH1does not assume any of our legal or other obligations, or us of theirs.

Our Business and the Franchises Offered in this State:

TechKnowHow® is a system developed to offer after school programs, summer camps and special event programs (such as in-school workshops, weekend programs and birthday parties) for children and teens, featuring interactive instruction teaching technology and engineering skills. All programs are themed using our proprietary curriculum ("Curriculum") and are geared toward applying science principals to create, design and build technology-based projects. A TechKnowHow® franchise is home-based and will offer supervised activities onsite that include, but are not limited to: Building structures, vehicles and using LEGO® products including motors, gears and battery packs; Designing robots and programs to run them using LEGO® products; Designing 2D and 3D games for computers and mobile devices; Teaching programming through game design, art and animation projects; Teaching electronics through projects which use circuit components and performing science demonstrations to complement our Curriculum. TechKnowHow® encourages intellectual growth along with the development of technical, problem-solving and teambuilding skills. A Franchisee may also offer: daytime programs for pre-school age children, fundraising programs, scouting workshops, sale of LEGO® products, LEGO®building contests, community building projects and other types of technology and science related products, programs and services approved by us.

Competition includes national and local student education and enrichment programs operated by national chains, local chains, independent operators and private schools, not-for-profit organizations and other related businesses offering similar services to those found in a TechKnowHow® business. Interactive education programs geared for children and teens are becoming highly competitive throughout the United States as the market is growing, changing and evolving. This may be a seasonal business depending on how many after school programs and summer camp programs you offer.

The TechKnowHow® business is characterized by the number of after school, summer camp and special event technology-based programs we offer, our Curriculum, teaching methods and strategies, operational procedures, product specifications, cost controls, strategies for purchasing computers, software and products; relationship with vendors and suppliers, a distinctive regional franchise website that features online registration functionality housed within our national website along with its design, dress, decor and color scheme; procedures for hiring instructors, training and ongoing operational assistance; proactive marketing, advertising and promotional programs; all of which may be changed, improved and further developed by Franchisor periodically (the 'System').

Your own efforts and skills are necessary, but do not assure any particular results. There can be no assurance of any measure of success, as there exist both typical and special business risk factors. These include: changing market conditions, competition, cost of supplies, new technologies, climate, real estate market, capital, labor, your own health, continuity of your management, continuation of sources of supply, availability of financing, recession or depression locally or nationally, wars, strikes, acts of terrorism, emergencies whether natural or manmade, litigation, liability and casualty losses.

Some other risks that may affect your business include but are not limited to: industry developments, pricing policies of competitors, availability of locations to hold programs, your ability to negotiate locations, the number of programs you offer, state licensing or bonding requirements, supply and demand; and your dependence on key personnel, the loss of whom could hurt your Business. The purchase of a TechKnowHow® franchise is speculative, and a significant investment beyond that outlined in this Disclosure Document may be required. There is no guarantee of any measure of success and important factors in the results of a TechKnowHow® Franchise, including yours, are your personal business, marketing, management, judgment, other skills and your willingness to work hard and diligently to follow our System.

Laws and Regulations:

In addition to laws and regulations that apply to businesses generally, currently there are no specific federal regulations governing business that offer onsite student enrichment programs. However, your state, province, county, school district, school or other public authority may require that you be "cleared" to offer after school programs in the public school system. This may require completing specific forms, background checks and fingerprinting. There may be local codes, ordinances, statutes or laws which license or regulate providing onsite enrichment programs. These laws vary from place to place and may also include bonding and registration requirements. You must know such laws and regulations in your locality and must make sure you and all your employees who work in your Business comply with any such laws and regulations and obtain any licenses, certifications or permits required to perform services. You should consider both their effect on your business and the cost of compliance. Although we monitor legal requirements that affect franchisees and we make our information available to you, for various reasons (number of potential state and local issues, frequency of our monitoring, as examples) we cannot guarantee our information will be complete, current and accurate. Therefore, we recommend that before signing the franchise agreement, you engage an attorney or other professional advisor to assist you in determining what laws, ordinances and regulations may affect your establishment or operation of a TechKnowHow® business, and in complying with them. You are responsible to obtain all certifications, licenses and permits required in your locality. In addition to completing our training program, you and your manager or supervisor, approved by us, if you plan to hire a manager or supervisor to manage the business or instruct any sessions, are encouraged (but not required)to be CPR and First Aid certified.

Your business may be subject to various employment regulations concerning wage rates, mandated employee benefits, employment taxes, worker safety, unemployment compensation, workers' compensation, teenage labor practices, disabled employees and discrimination in employment practices. You may be subject to the Americans with Disabilities Act and/or the California Fair Employment and Housing Act which prohibit practices that discriminate against individuals with disabilities. There may be other laws and codes applicable to your business. We urge you to make further inquiries about those laws and codes.

It is your sole responsibility, to investigate, satisfy and remain in compliance with all local, state and federal laws in addition to obtaining and keeping in force all necessary certifications, licenses and permits required by public authorities, since they vary from place to place and can change over time. We recommend that you consult your attorney for an understanding of all the laws applicable to your specific TechKnowHow® business.

We have not offered franchises in other lines of business in the past. We do not engage in any business other than the offer of franchises.

Gross Revenue also includes the fair market value for any service or product you receive in barter or exchange for services or products and all insurance proceeds you receive for the loss of the Business. We exclude only gratuities paid by customers to employees of the Business, sales tax receipts you must by law collect or pay and customer refunds of previous payments you actually make.

If your Franchise Agreement is terminated, you may be required to continue such royalty payments for the term of your Franchise Agreement.

Other than security deposits and utility deposits, all payments and fees described in this Item 7 are non-refundable.

Note 1: The initial franchise fee is $20,000. The initial franchise fee is $10,000 for each additional franchise you choose to buy at the time you sign your franchise agreement. At the time of signing the Franchise Agreement you could also purchase an option to buy additional franchises. The fee for this option is $5,000. It is not included in the table because the option fee would apply toward the purchase of a franchise.

Note 2: You must purchase computers and software (including our online registration software) for the operation of your Business as specified in the operations manual. We expect most franchisees will start the business by offering our basic LEGO® building programs and conduct a few sessions each week. The low estimate represents current costs for computers and software that includes one monitor, one laptop and software for word processing, desktop publishing and accounting. In addition to our Basic Program, if you wish to immediately offer advanced programs such as our advanced LEGO® robotics and game design programs, you will need additional computers and software for approximately 20 students. The high estimate represents the current costs for all computers and software necessary to operate your Business including 22 laptops and 22 gaming, robotic and 3D modeling software programs. You must purchase only approved computers and software and must purchase items that meet our specifications, which may change from time to time. Such items must be purchased through us, our affiliates and/or vendors or suppliers approved by us and may not be refundable depending on the terms of the invoice or purchase agreement (Franchise Agreement Sections XII.H, XII.I and XX.I).

Note 3: This estimate is for items we expect you to need for operating the Business: one portable sound system, one hand cart and/or dolly, two A-frame signs, lockable and portable storage cabinets, file cabinets, shelving, storage bins, desk, chairs, flip charts and general office supplies. You may be able to use existing furniture and fixtures when operating home-based. Actual furniture and fixture costs vary due to the square footage of your workspace and choice of furniture and fixtures. Expenses for equipment, furniture and fixtures do not include shipping costs and may not be refundable depending on the terms of the invoice or the purchase agreement.

Note 4: These are estimated expenses for office space for your business. But a typical franchised business is home-based. TechKnowHow® programs are held onsite at various locations in your territory. Whether you operate from home or leased office space, you must not conduct programs there. The high estimate represents your rent and security deposit, which typically equals one-month's rent, for the first three months. You may be able to reduce this expense if you operate from home or from space in an existing location that compliments another business as long as your arrangement does not violate laws, regulations or zoning restrictions. If you lease space, we advise you to choose space needing minimal leasehold improvements or fixtures and the space must be enclosed and separate from other businesses with its own locking door. These sums do not include the purchase of real property, as we do not expect you will buy real property. Whether or not rent or lease payments are refundable depends on the terms of your agreement with your landlord (Franchise Agreement Sections XII.S and XII.T).

Note 5: In most cases you will not need to pay for rental space, however there may be different times throughout the year where renting space may be necessary. The high estimate is for costs to rent space for your first three months of operation (full day rental) to hold various programs.

Note 6: You must purchase products and supplies for the general operation of your business as specified in the operations manual. You must purchase only approved products and supplies and you must purchase products that meet our specifications, which may change from time to time. The types of products and supplies include, but are not limited to: LEGO® bricks and elements, LEGO® kits, battery packs, batteries, mouse pads and mice, headphones, various motors and gears, micro-computers, circuit components, workbooks and materials, playground equipment (such as: a variety of balls, cones and other outdoor game items), name badges, first aid kit and various other items we specify. The low estimate represents an estimated cost for items you will need if offering our Basic Program only and the high estimate represents estimated costs if, in addition to the Basic Program, you also offer Advanced Programs. All items mentioned above must be purchased through us, our affiliates or approved vendors and/or suppliers, except workbooks and materials must be purchased directly from us. Whether or not any of these purchases are refundable depends on the terms of the invoice or purchase agreement with suppliers (Franchise Agreement Sections XII.I and XX.I).

Note 7: You can use your existing vehicle if it meets our appearance specifications or you can lease or purchase a new or used vehicle for use in your business. We require a vehicle not more than twenty years old that meets our appearance standards. We advise that if you need a vehicle for your business you find a used vehicle. The estimated amount for a leased vehicle is approximately $300 per vehicle per month and is contingent on mileage, gas prices, maintenance and licensing. We do not expect that you will immediately pay in full for a new or used vehicle, but if you do, your cost will be higher than the high estimate. If you choose to lease or purchase and finance a new or used vehicle, the estimated amount for a down payment is approximately $2,500 per vehicle. The purchase agreement price will vary from dealer to dealer, and the terms of your loan, including the interest rate and term, will vary depending on your credit worthiness, changes in credit markets, other loan costs and terms. We can't give you any guarantee or make any representation as to the terms, conditions or otherwise of financing for your vehicle. Whether or not payments made for the lease or purchase of your vehicle is refundable depends on the terms offered by your dealer.

Note 8: If you use your own vehicle and you want to advertise using graphics, we will provide you with specifications for vehicle graphics. We do not require you to put graphics on your vehicle, but if you do, you must adhere to our standards (Franchise Agreement Sections XII.U and XX.H).

Note 9: You must purchase and maintain an inventory of approved apparel for use in your business. You must purchase t-shirts for students and embroidered shirts for your staff from us and/or our approved vendors. All apparel must meet our specifications, which may change from time to time. You will need a minimum inventory of 100 white t-shirts that incorporate our logo and approved graphics for students for your first month of operation. The number of embroidered shirts you will need for your staff will vary depending on the number of instructors you hire. This estimate does not include any shipping costs which (if applicable)are your responsibility.

Note 10: This estimated amount represents 12 months of pre-paid insurance premiums that does not take into account workers' compensation insurance which may vary greatly by state, payroll and classification. The cost of insurance will likely exceed the estimate if you pay in installments. You must obtain and maintain comprehensive general liability insurance (that includes a property insurance rider for leasing space to perform TechKnowHow® programs) with a minimum policy limit of $1,000,000 per occurrence and $2,000,000 aggregate or an amount we reasonably specify. You must obtain business interruption insurance and automotive liability insurance with a minimum policy limit of $100,000 including uninsured motorist/minimum of $100,000 or an amount we reasonably specify (Franchise Agreement XIII). We may change insurance requirements on reasonable notice to you. Whether or not insurance premiums are refundable depend on the terms of your insurance policies.

You may need other insurance such as tenant's liability, statutory workers' compensation insurance (if applicable) and employer's liability insurance with minimum policy limits of $1,000,000 or an amount we reasonably specify. Professional liability insurance, product liability insurance, employee dishonesty insurance, employment practices liability insurance and property insurance are optional at this time, but we could require you to obtain this coverage in the future with liability limits of amounts we may reasonably specify. The estimates do not include these optional coverages; if you choose to purchase any of these optional coverages your investment will be higher than the high estimate.

Note 11: Training is generally held at our corporate headquarters. However, the training location may vary at our sole discretion. You are responsible for all costs associated with attending such as travel, room and board. Additional training is available at your request. An additional training fee of up to $300 per day may be required.

Note 12: You may need to obtain certain licenses to operate your business. You may also need to consult with lawyers, accountants and/or other professionals in connection with the operation of your business. The high estimate of $3,500 assumes you will consult with a lawyer and accountant. If they charge you more than this, then your cost will exceed the high estimate.

Note 13: You must purchase marketing and promotion materials that have been developed to attract students and assist you in securing locations. This is a range of estimated direct marketing expenses spent by you during your first three months of operation.

Note 14: These figures are just estimates and we cannot guarantee that you will not have higher costs. Competitive conditions described in Item 1 will affect these costs. This estimate includes minimum working capital for the start-up of your business, which includes start-up costs such as: additional products and supplies, recruiting instructors, worker's compensation insurance payments, tax, prepaid expenses, additional permits, legal fees, accounting fees and other miscellaneous costs.

This estimate of start-up costs is for a period of about three months, with additional operating capital to be available as may be needed during the initial phase. These costs do not include your Royalty Fee and System Advertising Fee payments, which start immediately after initial training is completed (as described in Item 6). Royalty and System Advertising fee payments should be included in your projections of overall operations costs beginning with your first month of operation. You may choose to invest additional funds into your business during the first three months of operation, and sometimes longer.

Note 15: We relied on our principals' combined expertise when preparing these figures. The actual amount of funds you will need depends on a variety of factors, including whether you offer a Basic Program or an Advanced Program to complement your Basic Program, the number of programs you offer, the amount of products and supplies you purchase, if you lease or purchase a vehicle, how you finance it (we do not expect you to pay in full at time of purchase), if you lease office space, if you need to rent space to perform programs, if you hire instructors, the time of year when you start your business, prevailing wage rates, implementation of a marketing plan, your own management skill, economic conditions, competition in your area and other factors. The estimate of initial investment funds is based on owner-operated business, or incorporating Franchise operations to an existing complimentary business and does not include salaries or benefits for full-time employees.

We cannot assure you will achieve positive cash flow or profits at any particular time or at all. These amounts are estimates only and specific amounts vary with local market conditions, which are outside our control. You should review the figures carefully with a business advisor and identify your individual expenses along with cash flow projections before making any decision to buy the franchise.

We do not offer financing, directly or indirectly, for any part of the initial investment for a Franchise. The availability and terms of third party financing will depend on factors such as the availability of financing generally, your creditworthiness, collateral you may have, and the lending policies of financial institutions. The estimate does not include any finance charges, interest, or debt service obligation, or your living expenses. You should have sufficient capital or other means to pay for your living expenses for at least twelve months.

Item 8
RESTRICTIONS ON SOURCES OF PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

You are required to adhere to standards and specifications established periodically by us. You must operate the Business in conformity with methods, standards and specifications we prescribe in the Operations Manual or otherwise in writing. A list of approved vendors and suppliers from whom all computers, software, products, supplies, apparel, vehicle graphics and marketing materials may be purchased will be provided to you and may be amended by us periodically. All services and products must be offered and used according to the specifications and procedures specified in the Operations Manual or other written materials. You must offer and use only our approved after school and/or summer camp programs and Curriculum for the operation of your Business and you cannot implement any other program or curriculum in your Business without our written approval (Franchise Agreement XII.H).

You are not permitted to sell or use computers, software, products or services of an unapproved vendor; purchase computers, software, products or supplies from an unapproved supplier; or offer, sell or use any other type of after school, summer camp, education, technology and/or enrichment program or curriculum, computer, software, products or supplies not approved by us, unless you first submit a written request to us for approval. We will use our best efforts to tell you within thirty (30) days whether such programs, curriculum, computers, software, products, supplies, vendors or suppliers are approved, as further described below in this Item 8.

You must offer only the after school, summer camp and/or special event programs, services and use the Curriculum and products (currently you are not authorized to sell any products as described in Item 16) we specify in writing which may be amended by us periodically. You must offer all programs and services, use all products and supplies, and teach the Curriculum as required by us in the manner and style we specify. We will provide you a list of approved after school, summer camp and special event programs, all Curriculum and a list of approved products you are authorized to offer and use in your Business after signing the Franchise Agreement and during training. You must introduce a minimum of one new and/or updated Curriculum each calendar year. We will provide new and updated Curriculum to you at no cost. There is no minimum or maximum number of after school, summer camp or special event programs you must offer or conduct, nor a minimum or maximum session size. We do not derive revenue or collect a royalty fee based on the number of sessions you conduct. You must also follow and adhere to our operational procedures and standards for hiring employees (referred to as “Instructors”).We will provide you with checklists, specifications and requirements when hiring Instructors in your area.

To maintain uniform quality standards all computers, software, products, apparel, vehicle graphics, signage, advertising, trademark usage, trade dress and other supplies and services you use to operate the franchised business must meet our standards and specifications.

You must not deviate from our standards and specifications without our written consent. If you want to offer any programs, services or curriculum, or use any products, equipment or supplies that have not been approved by us, or purchase any products from a supplier that has not been designated by us, you must first notify us in writing. We will respond to your written request within 30 days of our receipt. If we do not respond within 30 days, your request will be deemed disapproved. If we approve your request, we may revoke our approval at any time on our written notice to you. You must stop offering any programs, curriculum or services, and stop using or selling products we disapprove on notice from us. We can, and expect to, modify our standards and specifications periodically.

We base our approval or disapproval on our discretionary determination of quality, accuracy of product claims, safety, value, prompt attention to complaints, frequency of delivery, appearance and contributions or other benefits to us. We may require vendors and/or suppliers to provide certain information in addition to signing a nondisclosure agreement and agree to guarantee our level of quality and produce sufficient samples to allow us to test the sample at your expense. We may require you to submit to us sufficient specifications, photographs, drawings or other information and samples to determine whether the items meet our specifications. We may issue specifications in manuals or directives, in writing or orally, and we may modify them at any time.

You must participate in and cooperate with promotional programs, gift certificate or gift card programs we may establish and follow our requirements and guidelines. We will require you to use specific merchant service providers and communications programs, and we may require you to use or contribute to specified stationary, operational forms and checklists, promotional items, vendor discounts, allowances and rebates.

We may offer or designate others to offer computers, software, products, supplies or services and we may become approved suppliers or the only approved supplier(s) for these and other products and services. The products, supplies or services may include: LEGO® bricks and elements, LEGO® Kits, micro-computers, snap on circuit components, various motors and gears, digital and video cameras, workbook materials, apparel, vehicle graphics, proprietary and/or branded products (if developed), marketing materials, printed advertising materials and promotional items, computer software, shows and event marketing opportunities, and vendor, co-branding, affinity programs.

Currently we are not the only approved supplier of products or supplies you are required to use or sell in your Business, except we are the only approved supplier for our Curriculum, workbooks, advertising and marketing materials. As of the effective date of this Disclosure Document, all updates to advertising and marketing materials are optional, but we may in the future mandate that you purchase certain updates at your expense. Currently you are not authorized to sell any products to customers, however, we may allow you to sell products in the future. If we develop proprietary products or software in the future, you must purchase those from our approved suppliers, affiliates or us; and you may be required to maintain a specified inventory of such proprietary products (currently not in effect).You will be allowed to carry authorized third party products and services from our authorized product and services list that will be made available to you after signing the Franchise Agreement. We do not require that you maintain any specific inventory of authorized third party products. We may, in the future, negotiate purchase arrangements with the vendors on the approved suppliers list for the benefit of you in the areas of costs and support.

No officer of ours owns an interest in any required, recommended or approved supplier.

We may derive profit through markups of the prices charged to you for computers, software, products, supplies, apparel, vehicle graphics, promotional items, advertising and marketing materials or services we supply. We may derive revenue through license fees, commissions, promotional fees, advertising allowances, rebates or other monies paid by approved suppliers. We do not know the precise basis of these payments because we have never previously collected them. We reserve the right to receive rebates or other consideration from suppliers in connection with the purchase by the franchisee of products, supplies and equipment used in the operation of the Business. We do not know the actual percentage of our total revenues that such payments will amount to, as we have never previously collected such payments. We may take a portion of that revenue to spend on advertising or place in a separate franchise advertising account. If we require you to buy products or services from a vendor that pays such allowances, we may spend all such fees on related advertising or place them in the separate franchisee advertising account, described in Item 11 below. If we don't require the purchase, we need not place such fees in a separate account or use them on advertising. We are not required to apply these funds to advertising or place them in a separate franchise advertising account, but will use our reasonable discretion in making such decision. For the fiscal year ended December 31, 2017, we did not derive any revenues from franchisees' required purchases or leases, but may do so in the future.

All marketing and promotion of your Business by you in any medium must be done in a professional and dignified manner and conform to our specified standards and requirements. You must submit samples of all advertising or promotional plans and materials that you desire to use to us for approval if such has not been prepared or previously approved by us. You may not use marketing or promotional materials that we have disapproved. This includes any website promotion over the Internet to promote events at your Business. You must submit a request to us for any type of Internet promotion you wish to do in addition to any edits, changes or updates to your website. Internet promotions, edits, changes or updates to your website must be done by us, our affiliates or approved vendors. Upon approval of your request, you are responsible for all costs associated with any such edits, changes or updates. Our response to your request for such Internet promotions, edits, changes or updates to your website will be made within 30 days after we receive it, otherwise the request will be deemed disapproved. You must not conduct any advertising without our written permission, in any Social Media such as Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn and others. You must supervise your employees to assure they do not post material on the Social Media sites or any internet sites, regarding the Franchisor or Franchise system whatsoever.

You must have and/or purchase computers, software, smart phone, digital and video cameras, products, supplies and apparel. If you choose to place graphics on your vehicle as a form of advertising, the appearance of such vehicle graphics must meet our specifications. The specifications for vehicle graphics are in the Operations Manual and are based on our judgment and discretion based on the experience of our affiliate company-owned business. Failure to adhere to such specifications may put you in default under your Franchise Agreement. It is estimated that all your initial expenditures from us, our affiliates or the vendors that we specify and/or approve that meet our standards and specifications will be approximately30%-40%of your total initial purchases, depending on whether you choose to lease or purchase a vehicle. During the operation of the franchised business, required purchases from us, our affiliates or the vendors that we specify and approve(not including royalties or labor costs) are estimated to represent approximately 5%-10% of your monthly cost to operate your Business on an ongoing basis (depends on the types of programs and how many sessions you conduct).

We do not provide material benefits (for example renewal or additional franchises) to you based solely on your use of designated or approved sources. We do not belong or require you to belong to any purchasing or distribution cooperatives, although we retain the right to establish them and require your membership therein.

Before you open a TechKnowHow® for business, you must obtain the insurance coverage specified below.

1. Comprehensive General Liability Insurance, including broad form contractual liability, broad form property insurance (for leasing space), personal injury, advertising injury, completed operations and fire damage coverage, in the amount of $1,000,000 per occurrence and $2,000,000 aggregate;

2. Business Interruption insurance in such amount as will reimburse you for direct or indirect loss of earnings attributed to all perils commonly insured against by prudent business owners (including lost royalties, system advertising and other fees due to us and/or our affiliates), or attributable to prevention of access to the Business, with coverage for a period of interruption of 180 days and such longer period as we may specify periodically. Business interruption insurance is required with liability limits of amounts we may reasonably specify which will relate to the right to be reimbursed for direct or indirect loss of earnings attributed to all perils commonly insured against by prudent business owners;

3. Automobile liability coverage, including coverage of owned, non-owned and hired vehicles with coverage in amounts not less than $100,000 combined single limit or what is in accordance with your state guidelines;

4. Workers' compensation insurance in amounts provided by applicable law or, if permissible under applicable law, any legally appropriate alternative providing substantially similar compensation to injured workers, subject to the conditions set forth in the Franchise Agreement;

The insurance coverage must be maintained during the term of the Franchise Agreement. You must provide evidence of insurance to us. You may, after obtaining our written consent, elect to have reasonable deductibles under these coverages. All policies must name us, as additional insured and must include a waiver of subrogation. All insurance must be with insurers designated by us or acceptable by us. You must furnish us with certified copies of each of the insurance policies on the earlier of your opening of the Business or 60 days following the date that the Franchise Agreement is executed. You must purchase "A" rating insurance policies. Each such policy shall provide that it cannot be canceled without 30 days prior written notice to us and that we shall receive at least 30 days prior written notice of its expiration. You shall promptly refer all claims or potential claims against you or us to each of us and our insurer.

We estimate that the cost of insurance will be less than 3% of your total purchases in connection with the establishment of your business and less than 1% of your total purchases in the operation of your business. These percentages do not include workers' compensation insurance that will vary with the payroll amount and category of employees.

We do not offer, either directly or indirectly, any financing to you. We are unable to estimate whether you will be able to obtain financing for any or all of your investment and, if so, the terms of such financing. We do not guarantee your notes, leases, or any other obligations.

Item 11
FRANCHISOR'S ASSISTANCE, ADVERTISING, COMPUTER SYSTEMS & TRAINING

Except as listed below, we are not required to provide you with any assistance.

Before you open your Business, we will:

(1) Even though TechKnowHow® is a mobile business intended to be operated out of your home, you could choose to lease an office space for your Business. We will not unreasonably withhold our acceptance of an office space for the operation of your Business that meets our requirements. You select the office space for your Business within the protected territory provided in the Franchise Agreement. You must get our acceptance of the office space. We determine if it meets or exceeds our standards, but this is for our own benefit and does not ensure that your Business will achieve any particular results at the approved space. The factors we may consider in deciding whether to accept the office space include population density, freeway access, neighborhood and physical characteristics of the premises such as size and layout. We evaluate each proposed office space and accept, or do not accept, on a case-by-case basis (Franchise Agreement, Sections XII.S and XX.C).

Neither we nor our employees claim to have special expertise in selecting office space; we make no representation that your Business will be profitable or successful by being located at the approved space. Any approval only indicates that we are satisfied that the proposed office space meets our minimum criteria based on our general business experience. (Franchise Agreement, Section XX.C).

(2) Review for approval or disapproval a proposed lease if you plan to lease office space. You must obtain our prior written consent before executing a lease. At least ten (10) days before executing the proposed lease, you must provide us with a copy of the lease for our consideration. We plan to tell you within three (3) business days if we approve or not. (Franchise Agreement, Section XII.S).

(3) Offer you guidance when obtaining certifications and applying for permits as required by your locality to operate the Business. It is your responsibility to comply with all laws, ordinances and regulations as you are ultimately responsible for obtaining all necessary approvals, certifications, licenses and permits to operate your Business (Franchise Agreement Section XII.C).

(4) If you choose to lease or purchase a used or new vehicle or use an existing vehicle to operate your Business we will provide you with vehicle appearance specifications. You are responsible for the cost of the vehicle and the installation and cost of all vehicle graphics (Franchise Agreement, Sections XII.I, XII.U and XX.H).

(5) Provide you a list of our approved vendors and suppliers for all products, supplies, apparel, vehicle graphics, advertising and marketing materials and promotional items to be used in your Business. You are responsible for the cost of these items. You are required to purchase the items listed above from us, our affiliates and/or our approved vendors (Franchise Agreement XII.I, XX.H, and XX.I).

(6) Provide you specifications and list of approved vendors and suppliers for all computers and software necessary to operate your Business. You are responsible for the cost of these items and must purchase these from us, our affiliates and/or approved vendors. We will deliver the specifications, but not the above items, and you are responsible for installing these items (Franchise Agreement Sections XII.H, XII.I, XX.A, and XX.H).

(7) Provide you Curriculum you are required to use and teach for each program you offer in your Business. We will provide you with the Curriculum that matches the programs you offer at no additional cost to you however you are responsible for the cost of all workbook materials. You must purchase the workbook materials that complement the Curriculum from us, our affiliates and/or approved vendors (Franchise Agreement XX.H and XX.A).

(8) Offer certain training programs designed to assist you and your business management staff in the operation of your Franchise. We will also provide continuing education to any new manager or supervisor of your Franchise. We may require that you, any Owner and any manager(s), supervisor or assistant manager or supervisor, complete supplemental and refresher training programs during the term of the Franchise Agreement (Franchise Agreement, Section XX.A).

(9) Provide an initial training program, no later than 30 days before the date you start operating your Business, designated to assist you and your management staff in the operation of your Business, at no additional charge. The initial training program is designated for a maximum of three people per Franchise. If more than three people attend the training, we may impose a training fee of $300 per person for each day of training (Franchise Agreement Section XX.A).

(10) We will provide you guidance and assistance in the operation of your Franchise, including: how to secure locations, teaching our Curriculum, suggested pricing for services and products (if applicable), guidelines for hiring Instructors, methods and operating procedures utilized by other TechKnowHow® Franchises including new after school, summer camp and special event programs, advertising and promotional programs, bookkeeping, accounting methods, general operating procedures and website upgrades. Additional guidance and assistance may be made available to you at your written request and in our sole discretion at fees and charges established by us (Franchise Agreement, Section XX.A, XX.E and XX.K).

(11) Loan to you during the term of the Franchise Agreement one copy of our confidential operating manuals, which may include one or more manuals (for example, this also includes the Pre-Opening Manual) and other written materials (collectively, the "Operations Manual") for the operation of a TechKnowHow® business, containing mandatory and suggested specifications, standards and operating procedures required by us and information relative to your other obligations under the Franchise Agreement. We have the right to add to, and otherwise modify, the Operations Manual to reflect changes in authorized programs, services and products, as well as changes in specifications, standards and operating procedures of a TechKnowHow® Franchise. You must keep the Operations Manual confidential and current, and may not copy any part of the Operations Manual. The table of contents of the Operations Manual as of our last fiscal year end is included with this Disclosure Document as Exhibit E (Franchise Agreement, Section XX.G). You must operate your franchised business in compliance with the terms of your Franchise Agreement and the Manuals. You alone will exercise day-to-day control over all operations, activities and elements of the franchised business, including over your employees. Under no circumstance will we do so or be deemed to do so. The various requirements, restrictions, prohibitions, specifications and procedures of the System with which you must comply under the Franchise Agreement and the Manuals do not directly or indirectly constitute, suggest, infer or imply that we control any aspect or element of the day-to-day operations of your franchised business, but only constitute standards to which you must adhere when exercising your control over the day-to-day operations of your franchised business consistent with our policies. Franchise Agreement, Section XII.K.).

(12) Approve or disapprove samples of all local advertising, marketing and promotional materials not prepared or previously approved by us which are submitted by you (Franchise Agreement, Section X.C, XII.H and XX.J).

(13) Deliver to you a website for your Franchise operations at no additional cost incurred by you (Franchise Agreement, Sections IX.C and XX.B).

(14) Approve or disapprove any promotions, edits, changes or updates to your website. All modifications to your website must be performed by us, our affiliates or approved vendors and you will be responsible for all related costs (Franchise Agreement Sections X.C, XII.I and XX.B).

(15) Provide up to three days of pre-opening/grand opening assistance to you and your staff at your location within sixty days that you open your Business for operation. Such assistance will be provided to you as part of our initial franchise training program and at our cost (Franchise Agreement XX.A).

During your operation of the Business, we may:

(1) Provide additional on-site supervision and assistance as we deem necessary and in our discretion. Additional visits are for the purpose of advising you with respect to after school, summer camp and special event program execution, teaching our Curriculum, services, products, securing locations to conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs and also operational and sales matters related to a TechKnowHow® business. You will be responsible for transportation, room and board and miscellaneous expenses incurred by our personnel during the visits, which will take place per the terms of the Franchise Agreement, or at your request, and at times and dates selected by us (Franchise Agreement, Section XX.A).

(2) Provide you and your personnel, TechKnowHow® Franchise Continuing Education meetings at locations designated by us, which we expect to be at our headquarters with a fee not to exceed $300 per person per day and our expenses which can vary from area to area. We reserve the right to increase the per day fee a reasonable amount based on reasonable criteria (Franchise Agreement, Section XX.A).

(3) Provide you with all update and upgrade requirements for your computer systems and software or changes in our policies that are communicated to you in writing. The cost of such systems ranges between $2,500 and $9,000 (See Item 7). We are not obligated to provide any upgrades to any software programs that we do not own and license to you. We are not obligated to provide maintenance or repairs to any computer system, software or computer hardware that you use in the operation of your Business. Because this is a new franchise, we cannot estimate the annual cost of computer software and hardware upgrades. We reserve the right to have independent access to all information that you store in any computer system used for the Business (Franchise Agreement Sections XII.I, XX.A and XX.H).

(4) Conduct quarterly meetings or an annual convention where we designate(Franchise Agreement, Section XX.A).

(5) Establish a Franchise elected peer group whose main purpose is to mentor and support each other.

(6) Provide you an intranet system, at no additional charge, to answer questions from you or your staff (during regular business hours, Pacific Standard Time). In addition, you will be able to send us questions and suggestions using Internet email (Franchise Agreement, Sections XX.A).

(7) We could decide to offer a program in which franchisees can receive a flat referral fee of $2,000 in cash, services or product credit for referring a third party franchise prospect to us, who becomes a TechKnowHow® franchisee. We are not obligated to do this. If this program is established, you would be authorized only to identify the prospect to our company franchise sales staff. You would not be authorized to act as our agent or franchise broker and must not provide any information to prospects other than what we approve and complies with law. If you are entitled to receive a referral fee, notice will be given to the prospective franchisee. If established, we will retain the right in our sole discretion to modify or terminate this referral program at any time with or without notice.

During your operation of the Business we will:

(1) Assist you in selecting and negotiating payment for locations where you can conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs within your protected territory. It is your responsibility to identify and secure locations. We will provide you with guidelines for selecting locations and negotiating payment (if applicable) and such locations must meet or exceed our standards, however our assistance does not ensure that your Business will be profitable at the location. The factors we consider when selecting locations include demographics, proximity to major roads, convenience, lighting, safety, traffic, size and layout. Typical locations include public and/or private schools, universities, community centers, parks, recreation centers, camp grounds and other such venues. It is not required that you seek our assistance when selecting locations, however we are available to help you evaluate each proposed location on a case by case basis (Franchise Agreement, Sections XII.H and XX.D).

Neither we nor any of our employees have special expertise in selecting or negotiating payment for locations where you are able to conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs as each geographic area is different. In providing assistance and guidance to you, we make no representation that your after school, summer camp and/or special event programs will be successful or profitable. Any assistance and guidance by us in helping you secure a location is intended only to indicate that the proposed location meets our minimum criteria.

(2) Continue to consult with you at no additional charge regarding after school, summer camp and special event programs; securing locations, our Curriculum, online registration program, computers, software, products, supplies, policies, industry developments, sales, advertising and marketing. We will provide you with new and updated Curriculum that we will continue to develop for you to use and required you to teach, at no cost to you. We will offer assistance, advice, guidance and experience to you to resolve operational problems that you may encounter outside the scope of the Operations Manual (Franchise Agreement, Sections XII.V and XX.A).

(3) Provide a telephone hotline, at no additional charge, to answer questions from you or your staff (during regular business hours Pacific Standard Time). You will be able to contact us for questions, suggestions and guidance (Franchise Agreement, Section XX.A).

(4) Review and approve all advertising, marketing and promotion materials in addition to any promotions, edits, changes or updates to your website that you submit to us (Franchise Agreement, Section XII.H, XII.I, XX.B and XX.J).

(5) Provide you with computer, software, product, supply, vendor and supplier guidelines in addition to recommendations for hiring Instructors for your Business. We will provide you with updated and current lists of approved computer, software, products and supplies you are allowed to use, offer and sell in your Business. We will provide you with such computer, software, product and supply guidelines, but not the actual items and you are responsible for purchasing these items. We will review and approve or disapprove any computer, software, product, supply, program, service, vendor or supplier you wish to use, offer or sell in the operation of your Business. You may be responsible for paying any costs related to testing any samples (as described in Item 8). If we offer proprietary products in the future, all products will be made available in quantities sufficient to meet your student demands and at a reasonable cost (Franchise Agreement, Sections XII.F, XII.H, XII.I, XX.E, XX.H and XX.I).

(6) Provide you with suggested prices for all services and products (if applicable) you offer in your Business. We will establish minimum and maximum prices you can charge to the extent allowed by law. We will continue to develop and design new programs, Curriculum, services and introduce new products for the System as we deem necessary (Franchise Agreement XX.K).

(7) Provide continuing education to any new manager or supervisor of your business as noted in paragraph 13(iv) below. We may require that you, any Owners and any manager(s), supervisor(s) or assistant manager(s) or assistant supervisor(s) complete supplemental and refresher training programs during the term of the Franchise Agreement (Franchise Agreement, Sections XII.V and XX.A).

(8) Offer you assistance in establishing and using administrative, bookkeeping and accounting procedures in accordance with our Operations Manual, and various policies communicated by us to you in writing from time to time (Franchise Agreement, Section XX.A).

(9) Maintain, and administer a System Advertising Fund (referred to as the 'Fund') to support ongoing technology, new programs, Curriculum and product development to be made available to franchisees, and such national advertising as we, in our sole discretion, may deem appropriate. We do not use monies in the Fund to solicit new franchisees. We will direct all such programs and will have sole discretion over the creative concepts, materials, and endorsements and media used in such programs, and the placement or allocation of such programs. The source of the advertising will come from our in-house advertising department, or may in the future from a national or local advertising agency. We reserve the right to determine the composition of geographic territories and market areas for implementation and development of such programs. The advertising programs may be national, regional or local at our discretion. We are not obligated to spend a specific dollar amount on advertising in your territory (Franchise Agreement, Section X.B).

(i.) You will pay us 1% of your Gross Revenue per calendar month for the System Advertising contribution as designated in the Franchise Agreement. We may raise, discontinue or reduce the contribution, but your total contribution will not exceed 3% of your Gross Revenue in any calendar year. Contributions are due by the tenth day of the month (for the prior month) which begin on your first Tenure Month and will continue for the term of your franchise. Refer to Item 6 for definition of Tenure Month.

(ii.) Contributions to the Fund will be accounted for separately from our other funds and will not be used to defray any of our general operating expenses, except for reasonable salaries, administrative costs, travel expenses and overhead we may incur in activities related to the administration of the Fund and its programs, including conducting evaluation of new technologies, product development, market research, preparing advertising, promotion and marketing materials, and collecting and accounting for contributions to the Fund. Usage of the Fund will include ongoing development of the national website and development of new programs, Curriculum, products and supplies to be made available to franchisees. The media in which advertisements may be disseminated include print ads, signs, billboards, radio and television and may be conducted on a regional or national basis. We may spend, on behalf of the Fund, in any fiscal year an amount greater or less than the aggregate contribution of all TechKnowHow® franchises in that year, and the Fund may borrow from us or others to cover deficits; or invest any surplus for future use.

(iii.) We administer the fund, which is not audited. If contributions paid into the Fund are not spent in the fiscal year when they accrue, we can use the remaining amounts for the same purposes in future years. Interest earned on monies contributed to the Fund may be used to pay advertising and technology development costs before other assets of the Fund are expended. Fund contributions are not used to sell additional franchises. We will prepare an annual un-audited statement of monies collected and costs incurred by the Fund and furnish it to you on written request. All financial statements will be available 120 days after the end of our fiscal year. We reserve the right not to spend all of the funds in the Fund in any one year, and such funds may be accrued into the next year. The Fund is not a trust or escrow account, and we have no fiduciary obligation to you with respect to the Fund. The Fund has not been established before the date of this Disclosure Document.

(iv.) We expect to receive advertising and promotion allowances and fees from third party vendors and advertisers who enter into cooperative advertising programs with franchisees and us. We may disclose the identity of vendors who pay the promotional allowances to you upon request. In addition, if we require you to buy items from a vendor who pays these allowances, we may place the funds in the Fund or spend it on related promotions. Our obligation to provide advertising and marketing will be limited in cost to the amount of contributions and promotional allowances from third parties actually paid into the Fund.

(10) We currently do not use an advertising council composed of franchisees that advise us on advertising policies. However, we may implement such a council on notice to you. We currently do not have an advertising cooperative program. However, we reserve the right to implement such cooperative.

(11) You must spend a minimum of $350 each calendar month or $2,100 every six calendar months on local advertising and promotion for your Business, in addition to the 1% System Advertising contribution you pay to us. We may reduce the amount of your local advertising requirement after your second full year of operation at our discretion. You will also spend at least $1,800 on "grand opening" promotion within three months of opening which substitutes for the $350 a month obligation described above for local advertising. You must report your quarterly advertising expenditures to us by the 10th day after the end of each quarter, or at times, on forms, and in a manner we determine.

You will not use any independent advertising or sales promotion programs in any media (including electronic) without our prior review and written approval. We will approve the materials you submit to us within thirty days, if we do not respond within such period all such materials will be deemed automatically disapproved. You will make reasonable efforts to participate in and cooperate with all advertising programs selected by us or by any approved group of franchisees, except that you need not follow or maintain any sales price or suggested pricing. You are responsible for any expenses of this independent advertising.

Unless we approve otherwise in writing, you may not establish a separate Website and will only have one Website, as we designate and approve, within our website. The term "Website" includes: Internet and World Wide Web home pages, as well as other electronic sites (such as social networking sites like Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, blogs and other applications).You must comply with our requirements regarding discussing, advertising or disseminating any information, or otherwise having a presence on a Website, regarding the Business. However, if we approve a separate Website for you (which we are not obligated to do), then each of the following provisions will apply: (i) you may neither establish nor use any Website without our prior written approval; (ii) before establishing any Website, you must submit to us, for our prior written approval, a sample of the proposed Website, including its domain name, format, visible content (including, without limitation, proposed screen shots), and non-visible content (including meta-tags), in the form and manner we may require and all such work must be performed by us, our affiliates or approved vendors (as described in Item 8); (iii) you must not use or modify a Website without our prior written approval; (iv) you must comply with the standards and specifications for Websites that we may periodically prescribe in the Operations Manual or otherwise in writing; and (v) if we require, you must establish hyperlinks to our website and other Websites.

(12) We estimate the typical length of time between signing the Franchise Agreement and opening your business to be approximately 60days. Factors that may affect this length of time include satisfactory completion of our initial training program by you (or your Owners), your ability to secure locations to conduct after school, summer camp and/or special event programs; and availability of computers, products and supplies necessary for you to begin operating your Business. If you choose to open an office for your Business, you have 60 days from signing the Franchise Agreement to acquire or lease, at your expense, commercial real estate that is properly zoned for the use of your TechKnowHow® Franchise under the Franchise Agreement (not applicable if home based). If opening an office, you must submit to us, in the form we specify, a copy of the location plan and other information or materials we require, together with an option contract, letter of intent, or other evidence of satisfactory to us which confirms your favorable prospects for obtaining the location. We will have 30 days following receipt of this information and materials from you to approve or disapprove the proposed office space of your TechKnowHow® Franchise. If we do not approve a proposed office space by written notice to you within this 30-day period, the office space will be deemed disapproved. Failure to satisfy and complete our training program, start operating your Business and obtain our approval of your office space (if applicable) within the 60-day period will be a default under the Franchise Agreement, for which we may terminate the Franchise Agreement.

(13) Before opening your Franchise, you, any Owner, proposed manager, supervisor and/or key personnel you designate are required to attend our 5-day Franchisee training program at our corporate headquarters in Foster City, California unless headquarters is moved. We maintain a regular calendar for the training program and we expect trainings to be held about six to eight times per year (or more frequently if needed). The training program is included in your Initial Franchise Fee for up to three individuals. You are responsible for all costs associated with attending the program such as travel, room and board.

(i.) If we determine that any proposed manager or supervisor is not qualified to manage a TechKnowHow® business, we will notify you, and you may then select and enroll a substitute manager in our training program. If, during the training program we determine, in our sole discretion, that you (or your managing partner, member or shareholders) are not qualified to manage a TechKnowHow® business, we have the right to terminate the Franchise Agreement and we will refund the Initial Franchise Fee, minus our demonstrated expenses, without interest.

(ii.) After completion of our training program by you and your key personnel, we will provide training to any new manager, supervisor or key staff member of your Business at your request for which an additional training fee of up to $300 per person per day may be required. The trainee(s) will be responsible for all costs related to attending training such as travel, room and board. We have the right to require that you (or such managing partner, member or shareholder) and any manager(s), supervisor, assistant manager(s), assistant supervisor(s) and staff complete supplemental and refresher training programs during the term of the Franchise Agreement, to be furnished at our corporate headquarters in Foster City, California, at the fee as described above. (Franchise Agreement, XX.A)

(iii.) After opening your Business, we will provide you and your personnel, access to information and support through franchise portals online. Support will also be available from our professionals, and we may provide continuing education, additional or refresher training programs either through phone, web based ("webinars"), video or at locations designated by us (most likely at our headquarters). Continuing education, additional or refresher training programs (other than by phone, webinars or video) may have a registration charge to you which will not exceed more than $300 per person per day plus our expenses. You are responsible for costs associated with you attending the programs such as travel, room and board. The programs will normally not exceed two days and we expect to at least have quarterly programs subject to special need. The content will cover particular aspects including but not limited to: new after school, summer camp and special event programs, teaching the Curriculum, registration and scheduling sessions, trends in the industry, securing locations, operational guidelines, safety, website and software developments, sales, marketing, administration and so forth. We may conduct an annual convention at such place as we designate for all Franchisees. Initially we expect this to be at our headquarters. A registration fee for each participant may be required which we will work in good faith to maintain at our cost and you will be responsible for costs associated with attending the convention such as travel, room and board. The fees charged above may be increased a reasonable amount based on reasonable criteria. (Franchise Agreement, XX.A).

(iv.) Within 30 days before the date you anticipate operating your Business, we will provide training for you as noted in the following training schedule. This training curriculum is detailed in the TechKnowHow® Operations Manual and may change periodically. Our training team will include directors from our staff from the TechKnowHow® currently at our Foster City corporate office, members of our website development team, members from our approved suppliers and service providers. Item 12
TERRITORY

You must operate your single Franchise within the specific location identified in your Franchise Agreement. You do not receive an exclusive territory. You could face competition from other franchisees or from outlets that we own. You cannot control or limit any location or operation of any franchised or company-operated TechKnowHow® or other branded units or distribution channels. You do not have rights regarding other businesses, services or products we or our related persons or entities may be involved in.

You receive a protected marketing territory ("Territory") of a defined population of as much as 300,000 people. The population in the Territory may be less than 300,000 people. We reserve the right to grant a territory that is larger or smaller than the population area defined above, to account for more densely or sparely populated areas. We determine your Territory based on the most recently published data from the U.S. Census Bureau (or other source as we may indicate to you). You will have the only TechKnowHow® business within your Territory.

All after school, summer camp and special event programs must be conducted within your Territory at locations you select that are accessible to the general public and you must obtain approval and/or permits necessary to conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs at such locations. However, given unique circumstances, you may be able to conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs in geographic areas outside your Territory with written permission by us. We approve or deny your request, in our sole discretion, within 30 days of receipt of your written request to conduct programs outside your Territory. We, other franchisees and company-owned businesses reserve the same right to conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs in your defined Territory.

You may service customers and sell products (if we authorize to you sell products in the future) to customers who live outside your Territory so long as such activity does not result from any Target Marketing (as defined below) activities by you.

Other than as described above, we cannot establish a company-owned business or license another franchisee to operate a TechKnowHow® franchise within your Territory during the term of the Franchise Agreement.

Your licensed Territory, is determined by zip code, population, our own assessment of business potential (such as: the number of public and private schools, universities, recreation centers, community centers, camp grounds and other such venues are in the area), average household income, demographics of the surrounding area, market penetration or other conditions important to the operation of a TechKnowHow® business, as we deem appropriate and as identified in your Franchise Agreement. Your Territory is determined by us once an area is chosen, and will not be altered even if there is a population increase or decrease. Your Territory will not be affected by your sales volume, number of programs you must conduct or session size. Certain locations, such as major metropolitan areas for example, may have smaller territories because of densely populated areas. We must accept the area in which you want to operate your TechKnowHow® business within your defined Territory in writing before you open for business.

The Territory will affect where you and our other franchisees may conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs and solicit business. We may grant you permission to conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs in other territories adjoining your Territory (as described above). If the other territories that adjoin your Territory are unassigned, we have the right to sell or assign, all or any part, of such adjoining territories, at any time, without notice to you, and you may not have the right of first refusal or option to buy the unassigned territory. You are prohibited from soliciting and marketing in general to customers by any means outside your Territory and must not specifically engage in "Target Marketing" of customers in the Territory of another TechKnowHow® business (franchise and/or a company/affiliate owned business)."Target Marketing" means a concerted effort by a franchisee to solicit and obtain customers through any type of advertisement or marketing, directed at all or a portion of another franchisee's Territory, company-owned business or unassigned area.

If you are asked to provide services to customers who live in a geographic area in which there is another franchisee or company-owned business, you must immediately refer the customer to the TechKnowHow® business in that geographic area or directly to us. If the other franchisee or company-owned business determines it is in the best interest of the customer for you to provide services, then you can service the customer. If there is not a TechKnowHow® franchise or company-owned business in the geographic area in which the customer lives then you can immediately service the customer, however you must be prepared to refer the customer to another franchisee when the unassigned area is purchased. We and other franchisees must refer customers that live within your Territory to you and also reserve the same right to provide services to customers who may live within your defined Territory if it is determined to be in the customer's best interest. If you are unable to promptly and properly serve any of your customers due to excessive work, or other reasons, you must refer that customer to another franchisee in the System or to us.

If you fail to refer customers as set forth herein, we have the right to terminate the Franchise Agreement. For any default of the Franchise Agreement, as an alternative to termination, we may modify or eliminate any rights you may have with respect to the Territory, effective ten days after delivery of written notice to you. In addition, we may modify or eliminate completely, the Territory (Franchise Agreement Section VI).

We encourage TechKnowHow® businesses, when owned by different individuals, to work out a referral relationship and an advertising strategy if they are within close proximity of each other (defined as being within a ten mile radius of each other). We must be notified of such arrangements. We have the right to disapprove such arrangements and you cannot cooperate in any such arrangements that we disapprove.

We have the exclusive right to negotiate and enter into agreements or approve forms of agreements to conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs at specific locations or to provide services and products (if applicable) to National Accounts. "National Account" means a special class of customers which may include but is not limited to large businesses, national organizations or non-profit organizations with outlets in multiple territories, and government agencies, who on their own behalf or through agents, franchisees or other third parties, own, manage, control or otherwise have responsibility for buildings or common-services in more than one location whose presence is not confined within any one particular franchisee's Territory regardless of the aggregate contract amount of the services the Franchisee wishes to perform. After we sign a contract with a National Account, we may at our option provide you the option to conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs at negotiated locations, perform services and/or provide products under the National Account contract. If you choose not to conduct after school, summer camp and special event programs at negotiated locations, we may conduct such programs, perform services and/or provide products directly ourselves, or through another franchisee or third party, even if the services are in your Territory, without compensation to you.

We have the right to:

(1) Advertise, market and sell TechKnowHow® branded and trademarked programs, services and products in your Territory;

(2) Advertise, offer and promote the programs, services and products to promote the System through the Internet, World Wide Web and/or other similar channels no matter where the customer lives, including within your Territory;

(3) Sell or distribute any program, service or product to customers located anywhere through any alternative or other channel of distribution, other than local business operations, under our trademarks (see Item 13 below) and System on terms and conditions we deem appropriate. We have this right whether or not we use the trademarks or System or act inside or outside the Territory designated in your Franchise Agreement;

(4) Distribute our Curriculum and/or sell and distribute proprietary products that have been branded with our trademarks or different branded products through any outlet located anywhere and on any terms and conditions we deem appropriate. If we decide to distribute our Curriculum and/or develop and distribute products, you will not receive compensation from us for sales inside your Territory unless otherwise agreed to in writing by us;

(5) Own, operate or authorize others to own and/or operate (a) any business located outside the Territory designated in your Franchise Agreement using our trademarks and/or System;(b) any business anywhere using our trademarks and/or System, which is not substantially similar to the business franchised to you under the Franchise Agreement; and (c) any business anywhere which does not use our trademarks and/or system; and

(6) Acquire, merge, affiliate with or engage in any transaction with other businesses (whether competitive or not), with units located anywhere, including arrangements in which we are acquired, and/or company-owned, franchised or other businesses (including your TechKnowHow® Franchise businesses) are converted to another format, maintained under the System or otherwise. Each TechKnowHow® Franchise business awarded to you will fully participate in any conversion subject to any person/entity merging with, or acquiring us, reimbursing you for reasonable costs directly related to the conversion.

We do not pay compensation to you concerning the sale of our services, Curriculum or products (if developed) by us over the Internet, World Wide Web, other similar channels, by alternative means of distribution, advertising cooperative programs, outlets, businesses that are not substantially similar to the franchised business or any business that does not use our trademarks.

We have not established, and do not presently intend to establish, other franchises or company-owned businesses offering similar services or products under a trade name or trademark different from the TechKnowHow® Marks.

Item 13

As a matter of corporate policy, we may create an incentive program to reward you, your managing partners, managing members, officers, directors, managers, shareholders, employees, agents or independent contractors for any new programs, curriculum, products, concepts, techniques, methods, processes or improvements that we implement throughout the System. You and your Owners acknowledge that any such program, curriculum, product, concept, technique, process or improvement will become the property of us and we may use or disclose such information to other franchisees as it deems appropriate.

Item 15
OBLIGATION TO PARTICIPATE IN THE ACTUAL OPERATION OF THE FRANCHISE BUSINESS

The rights and duties created by your franchise agreement are personal to you or your owners, as applicable. We will grant a Franchise Agreement in reliance on the individual or collective character, skill, aptitude, attitude, business ability and financial capacity of you and/or your shareholders/members/other owners. As such, you must participate in the actual operation of the franchise business as follows:

You are required to retain a manager ("Supervisor") for the operation and management of your TechKnowHow® business. The Supervisor may, but need not, be you or one of the managing partners, members or shareholders of the Business. The Supervisor must meet all our standards and criteria for such position as set forth in the Operations Manual. The Supervisor need not have any set percentage of the equity of the franchised business.

During the term of the Franchise Agreement, you (if franchisee is an individual) or your approved Supervisor must devote full time and best efforts to the management of the business. You or your Supervisor must provide direct on-premises supervision to the business. You and your Supervisor must complete our training course. Your Supervisor need not have any equity interest in the franchisee. The use of a Supervisor in no way relieves you of your obligations to comply with the agreement and to ensure that your business is properly operated. You or your Supervisor must be at the business for any inspection or evaluation we conduct.

In all cases, all shareholders, officers, directors, partners, members and all managers and other employees having access to our Confidential Information must execute a non-disclosure agreement containing substantially the same protections as provided for in the form agreement contained in the Operations Manual. Your managers and supervisors and other employees receiving training from us must execute covenants not to compete in a form that we approve. You will provide us copies of the same upon request.

You may not employ any individual who is at the time or was at any time during the prior six months employed as an Instructor or in a managerial or administrative position by us or any of our affiliates or by another franchisee of ours without our prior written consent. As a condition to such consent, you may be required to compensate the former employer for the reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the employer in connection with the training of any replacement employee.

If you are a corporation, LLC or partnership, each shareholder, member or partner must personally guarantee your obligations under the Franchise Agreement, and also agree to be personally bound by, and personally liable for breach of, the Franchise Agreement, agree to be bound by the confidentiality provisions and noncompetition provisions of the Franchise Agreement and agree to certain restrictions on their ownership interests. The required Guaranty of Obligations is attached as Schedule 4 of the Franchise Agreement.

All employees you hire or employ at your franchised business will be your employees and your employees alone, and will not, for any purpose, be deemed to be our employees or subject to our direct or indirect control, most particularly with respect to any mandated or other insurance coverage, taxes or contributions, or requirements regarding withholdings, levied or fixed by any governmental authority. You will file your own tax, regulatory and payroll reports, and be responsible for all employee benefits and workers compensation insurance payments for your employees and operations. We will not have the power to hire or fire your employees. Our authority under the Franchise Agreement to train and approve your supervisorial or managerial personnel for qualification to perform certain functions at your franchised business does not directly or indirectly vest us with the power to hire, fire or control any of your personnel. You and you alone will be solely responsible for all hiring and employment decisions and functions relating to the franchised business, including those related to hiring, firing, training, establishing remuneration, compliance with wage and hour requirements, personnel policies, benefits, recordkeeping, supervision and discipline of employees, regardless of whether you have received advice from us on these subjects or not. Any guidance we may give you regarding employment policies should be considered merely examples. You will be responsible for establishing and implementing your own employment policies, and should do so in consultation with local legal counsel experienced in employment law.

Franchisee may buy or lease the required real property and improvements from any source and on terms approved by Franchisor in writing. On the execution of any lease for the Business, Franchisee will deliver to Franchisor a copy of the executed lease and an option to assume the lease executed by the lessor in favor of Franchisor in a form acceptable to Franchisor. All improvements to the Business must be approved by Franchisor.

FRANCHISEE ACKNOWLEDGES THAT OUR ACCEPTANCE OF A PROSPECTIVE OFFICE SPACE AND THE RENDERING OF ASSISTANCE IN THE SELECTION OF AN OFFICE SPACE DOES NOT CONSTITUTE A REPRESENTATION, PROMISE, WARRANTY, OR GUARANTEE BY US THAT A TECHKNOWHOW®FRANCHISE OPERATED FROM THAT OFFICE SPACE WILL BE PROFITABLE OR OTHERWISE SUCCESSFUL.

Franchisee acknowledges that if operating out of anoffice space, the decoration and outfitting of TechKnowHow® business is part of our trade dress and must be approved by Franchisor. Franchisee shall not execute a lease or sublease for the Business, or make any modifications or amendments to the lease, without our prior written consent, which we may grant, condition or withhold in our Business Judgment (as defined in Section XXI). Franchisee will deliver to Franchisor a copy of any lease for Franchisor's review at least ten (10) days before execution.Franchisor will notify Franchisee of our consent or withholding or conditioning of consent within three (3) business days. 1) Permit Franchisee to operate a TechKnowHow®business in accordance this Agreement and the Manuals;

2) Provide that the Premises will be used only for the administrative offices of a TechKnowHow® business, and prohibit Franchisee from assigning or modifying any of Franchisee's lease rights, or extending the term without our prior written consent;

If Franchisee loses lease rights to the Premises in connection with any bankruptcy, the lessor shall, on our request, enter into a new lease with us on essentially the same terms as the terminated lease;

T. Development and Construction of Premises

If Franchisee chooses to operate out of anoffice space, rather than operate home-based, Franchisee must select and employ licensed contractors reasonably acceptable by us for the complete build out and/or any leasehold improvements. Franchisee may be provided with suggested plans and specifications (interior and exterior) for the build out of the Premises which may include specifications for storage, furnishings, fixtures, signage and all décor items. Such plans and specifications are subject to alteration as may be necessary in Franchisor's sole discretion and Franchisee must be in full and strict compliance with plans and specifications approved by us. Franchisee is responsible for the cost and installation of all build out specifications of the Premises.

We expect that if operating out anoffice space, a TechKnowHow® business needs only minimal construction improvements if any. Costs may vary widely depending on such factors as property location, climate, condition of the property and extent of alterations required for the property. Franchisee shall be responsible to obtain all zoning classifications, health, sanitation, clearances, permits and certifications which may be required by state or local laws, ordinances or regulations or which may be necessary or advisable owing to any restrictive covenants relating to Franchisee's location. After obtaining such approvals and clearances, Franchisee shall submit to Franchisor, for Franchisor's approval, final plans for construction based on the preliminary plans and specifications. Once approved by Franchisor, such final plans shall not be changed or modified without the prior written permission of Franchisor. Any such change made without Franchisor's prior written permission shall constitute a material default under this Agreement and Franchisor may withhold its authorization to open the Business until the unauthorized change is rectified (or reversed) to Franchisor's reasonable satisfaction.

Except as provided in Section IX.A of this Agreement, Franchisee shall construct, furnish and open the office space for the Business according to the requirements contained herein, and Franchisee shall open the office space for the Business not later than sixty (60) days from the Effective Date. If Franchisee or Franchisee's designated individual's management training is discontinued by us, Franchisee shall have thirty (30) days to present an alternative acceptable candidate for management training to Franchisor. If Franchisee's new candidate does not adequately complete the management training, then we shall have the option of terminating this Agreement. The transferee (and, if the transferee is other than an individual, such principals and/or owners of a beneficial interest in the transferee as we may request) shall execute and agree to be bound by the then current form of this Agreement, which form may contain provisions that materially alter the rights or obligations under this Agreement. Alternatively, we may in our sole discretion require the transferee to sign a standard form franchise agreement then being used by us, but, for a term ending on the expiration date of this Agreement and with such renewal term, if any, as may be provided by this Agreement. In addition to the then current franchise agreement being used by us, the transferee shall sign all other ancillary agreements as we may require for the Business, which agreements shall supersede this Agreement in all respects and the terms of which Agreements may differ from the terms of this Agreement, including, without limitation, a higher Franchise Fee, royalty fee payments, renewal rights and advertising contribution;

11. The transferee, at its expense, shall upgrade the Business to conform to the then-current standards and specifications of the System and shall complete the upgrading and other requirements within the time specified by us;

12. Franchisee shall remain liable for all of the obligations to us in connection with the Businessincurred prior to the effective date of the transfer and shall execute any and all instruments reasonably requested by us to evidence such liability;

13. Franchisee must obtain and submit satisfactory evidence of transfer or consent of lenders, lessors and government authorities for all material permits, approvals and licenses;

14. Franchisee may transfer up to twenty percent (20%) of its shares or other ownership interests to any person or entity without violating this provision, provided that in connection with any such transfer the transferee executes the same guarantee and other agreements which would be required on execution of this Agreement by Franchisee, if such transferee has then been the owner of such percentage of Franchisee's shares or other ownership interests. Franchisee's transfer of an ownership interest without complying with the foregoing, or transfers of more than twenty percent (20%) ownership in Franchisee's entity, in one or more transfers, without our prior written approval is a material breach of this Agreement;

15. The transferee shall agree to a sublease or to a transfer and assignment, and assumption of the lease of the Business from the original Franchisee, and shall obtain the landlord's approval if required prior to any transfer or sublease, if applicable;

16. The transfer must be completed in compliance with the terms of any applicable leases and other agreements and with all applicable laws, including but not limited to licensing and operations-related laws and/or laws governing franchise sales;

17. Franchisee agrees that we may (but are not required to) discuss with you and/or the proposed transferee any matters related to any transfer and/or proposed transfer at any time which we consider to be appropriate in our Business Judgment without liability (including our opinion of the terms of sale, performance of the Franchise, etc.). Franchisee expressly consents to any such discussions by us and we may contact any proposed transferee directly regarding such matters or otherwise;

18. Neither Franchisee nor any transferee shall rely on us to assist in the evaluation of the terms of any proposed transfer. Franchisee acknowledges and agrees that an approval of a proposed transfer shall not be deemed to an approval of the terms, nor any indication as to any likelihood of success or economic viability;

19. Franchisee and its Owners and/or Principals will agree not to compete, not to divert customers of Franchisor, or attempt to hire employees, after the transfer in accordance with restrictions acceptable to us and substantially similar to those described in Section XIX.C of this Agreement; and

20. Franchisee and its Owners and/or Principals will not directly or indirectly at any time or in any manner (except with respect to other TechKnowHow® business that Franchisee or its Principals own and operate) identify itself or any business as a current or former TechKnowHow® business or as one of our franchise owners; use any Mark, any colorable imitation of a Mark, or other indicia of a TechKnowHow® business in any manner or for any purpose; or utilize for any purpose any trade name, trade or service mark or other commercial symbol that suggest or indicates a connection or association with us as described in Sections XXIV.A and XXIV.C of this Agreement.

Franchisee must submit copies of the draft Asset Purchase Agreement or Stock (Membership Unit) (Partnership Unit) Purchase Agreement, all draft Promissory Notes, and Security Agreements, with the transferee, regardless of whether they are Franchisee financed or lender financed. In addition to all other grounds for rejection, Franchisor has the right to reject any proposed purchase of the assets of the Franchised business or the stock, membership units, or partnership units of the Franchised business on the grounds that the proposed Franchisee has in the sole opinion of Franchisor taken on too much debt.

C. Assignment by Franchisor and Right of First Refusal

Franchisor has an unrestricted right to purchase, transfer or assign its rights or obligations under this Agreement to any transferee or other legal successor to the interests of Franchisor and will give Franchisee thirty (30) days written notice of Franchisor's decision to exercise Franchisor's right of first refusal.

We have a right of first refusal regarding any proposed transfer, by you or an Owner of you, subject to this Agreement, excluding only those transfers that are subject to Section XXII.B. For each non-excluded proposed transfer, during the term of this Agreement, if Franchisee, or any Owner of Franchisee wishes to sell or otherwise transfer an interest in this Agreement, a TechKnowHow®Franchised Business, or an ownership interest in Franchisee (except Franchisor's right of first refusal will not be exercised as described above), then you will comply with the requirements of Sections XXII.B, XXII.C,XXII.Eand XXIV.Gof this Agreement.

Franchisee will notify us within ten (10) days after Franchisee has commenced discussions or communications even if preliminary, regarding such a proposed transfer and then send us written updates of the status of such discussions or communications every thirty (30) days thereafter unless and until such discussions or communications have ceased, in which case Franchisee must notify us in writing within five (5) business days that such discussions or communications have ceased. Whether the discussions have ceased or not, at our option, we may require Franchisee to send us, by certified mail or other receipted delivery, copies of any materials or information sent to the proposed buyer or transferee regarding the possible transaction as well as any materials Franchisee sends to the buyer or transferee. Before agreeing to any such transaction, Franchisee and its Owners agree to obtain from a responsible and fully disclosed buyer, and then send us, a true and complete copy of a bona fide, executed written offer (which may include a letter of intent) relating to any proposed transfer. The offer must include details of the payment terms of the proposed sale and the sources and terms of any financing for the proposed purchase price. The bona fide offer with the proposed purchase price must be in a dollar amount, and the proposed buyer must submit with its offer an earnest money deposit of $5,000 (if a proposed disposition is part of a transaction involving additional TechKnowHow®businesses, operating under other Franchise Agreements or license agreements with us, the proposed buyer must pay you this earnest money deposit for each TechKnowHow®business, involved).

If we do not exercise our right of first refusal, Franchisee orits Owners may complete the transfer to the proposed buyer on the original offer's terms, but subject to our approval of the transfer as provided in Section XXII.Babove and further provided, after the transfer, the TechKnowHow®business must continue to operate as a TechKnowHow®business. This means that, even if we do not exercise our right of first refusal, if the proposed transfer otherwise would not be allowed under Section XXII.B and Section XXII.C above, you or your managing partners, members or shareholders may not move forward with the transfer at all. If, after the transfer is determined to be valid, Franchisee no longer continues to operate a TechKnowHow®business, or any other type of materially related business, then Franchisee may complete the sale (with our approval) to the proposed buyer as long as Franchisee complies with Section XXII.E of this Agreement.If the sale is not consummated, Franchisor's right shall continue as described below.

D. Transfer On Death or Mental Incapacity

On death or mental incapacity of any person with an interest in the TechKnowHow® Business, the executor, administrator, or personal representative of that person must transfer his or her interest to a third party approved by Franchisor within six (6) months after death or mental incapacity. These transfers, including, without limitation, transfers by devise or inheritance, will be subject to the same restrictions and conditions as any inter vivos transfer. However, in a transfer by devise or inheritance, if the heirs or beneficiaries of any deceased person are unable to meet the conditions of this Agreement, the personal representative of the deceased Franchisee shall have six (6) months to dispose of the deceased's interest in the Business, which disposition will be subject to all the terms and conditions for transfer contained in this Agreement. If the interest is not disposed of within six (6) months, Franchisor may terminate this Agreement.

Pending assignment, on the death of the Principal, or in the event of any temporary or permanent mental or physical disability of the Principal, a manager shall be employed for the operation of theBusiness who has successfully completed Franchisor's training courses to operate the Business for the account of Franchisee. If after the death or disability of the Principal, the Business is not being managed by such trained manager, Franchisor is authorized to appoint a manager to maintain the operation of the Business until an approved transferee will be able to assume the management and operation of the Business, but in no event for a period exceeding ninety (90) days without the approval of the personal representative of the Principal; such manager shall be deemed an employee of Franchisee. All funds from the operation of the Business during the period of management by such appointed or approved manager shall be kept in a separate fund and all expenses of the Business, including compensation of such manager, other costs and travel and living expenses of such appointed or approved manager (the "Management Expenses"), shall be charged to such fund. As compensation for the management services provided, in addition to the Fees due, Franchisor shall charge such fund the full amount of the direct expenses incurred by Franchisor during such period of management for and on behalf of Franchisee, provided that Franchisor shall only have a duty to utilize reasonable efforts and shall not be liable to Franchisee, the Principal or personal representative of the Principal, or any person or entity having an interest therein for any debts, losses or obligations incurred by the Business, or to any creditor of Franchisee or the Principal during any period in which it is managed by a Franchisor-appointed or approved manager.

Within thirty (30) days after transfer ofthe franchise to Franchisee’s heirs or successors or the heirs or successors of Franchisee’sOwners, the heirs or successors must notify Franchisor in writing and make application for approval of such transfer. The application for the transfer is subject to the same conditions, procedures and costs as assignment of any other franchise except that there will be no transfer fee.

E. Sale of Franchised Business

If Franchisee (or its shareholders, managing partners or owners) desire to sell the TechKnowHow®Franchised Business, then within ten (10)business days after receipt by Franchisee (or its heirs, estate, guardian, trustee or assigns) of a bona fide offer acceptable to Franchisee to buy the franchised business, Franchisee will notify Franchisor of the offer in writing, enclosing a signed copy of the offer. Franchisor or its assignee may then purchase (exercise its right of first refusal as described in Section XXII.C) and acquire the franchised business and Franchisee's rights under this Agreement at the price and on the same terms and conditions as offered to Franchisee. Franchisor may substitute cash for any other form of consideration contained in the offer and, at Franchisor's option, may pay the entire purchase price at closing. Franchisor may exercise this right to purchase in writing within thirty (30) days after receiving Franchisee's notice.

If Franchisor does not exercise its right to purchase within thirty (30) days, Franchisee may thereafter sell the franchised business to the third party, but not at a lower price or on more favorable terms than disclosed to Franchisor in writing. Sale is subject to Franchisor's prior written approval as specified in this Agreement. IfFranchisee does not sell the franchised business to the assignee within ninety (90) days from the date it is offered to Franchisor, then Franchisee must again extend the first right of refusal to Franchisor before transfer to a third party.

To enable Franchisor to determine if it will exercise its option, Franchisee, managing partners, shareholders or members, shall provide such information and documentation, including financial statements, as Franchisor may require (as noted below). In the event that Franchisor elects to purchase said interest, closing on such purchase must occur withinninety (90) days from the date of notice to the seller of the election to purchase said Interest by Franchisor. Failure of Franchisor to exercise the option afforded by this Section XXII.D shall not constitute a waiver of any other provision of this Agreement, including all of the requirements of this Section XXII.B, with respect to a proposed transfer of any interest. Any subsequent change in the terms of any offer prior to closing shall constitute a new offer subject to the same rights of first refusal by Franchisor as in the case of an initial offer.

Franchisor may, by delivering written notice to Franchisee orits Owners, within thirty (30) days after we receive both an exact copy of the offer and the Preliminary Due Diligence Package (the date on which we have received the exact copy of the offer and the Preliminary Due Diligence Package is called the "Trigger Date"), notify Franchisee of our non-binding preliminary intent to purchase or not to purchase the interest proposed to be sold. The "Preliminary Due Diligence Package" is information and copies of documents (where applicable) that Franchisee compiles and consists of Franchisee's TechKnowHow® financial statements (including monthly revenue information) for the preceding three (3) years, a copy of the TechKnowHow® current lease (if applicable and if we do not already have it), information about the number and compensation of employees working at the TechKnowHow® Business, and a description of competingafter school, summer camp or special event related businesses offering similar Services and Products operating within the Territory. If we notify you withinthirty (30) days after the Trigger Date (the "First Notice Deadline") that we are preliminarily interested in exercising our right of first refusal, we will have an additional thirty (30) days after the First Notice Deadline both to conduct our due diligence and then to notify you of either our binding intent to exercise our right of first refusal or our decision not to exercise this right. This additional period is called the "Due Diligence Deadline". If we elect to purchase the interest proposed to be sold for the price and on the terms and conditions contained in the offer:

1) We may substitute cash for any other form of payment proposed in the offer (such as ownership interests in a privately-held entity);

2) Our credit will be deemed equal to the credit of any proposed buyer (meaning that, ifthe proposed consideration includes promissory notes, we may provide promissory notes with the same terms as those offered by the proposed buyer, except as to subordination). Regarding subordination, you acknowledge and agree that our obligations under the promissory notes then outstanding to any and all lenders, althoughsenior to the equity right of our owners will also be senior to the promissory notes given to you;

3) We will have an additional thirty (30) days after the Due Diligence Deadline to close; and

4) Franchisor must receive, and Franchisee agrees to provide all customary representations and warranties given a seller of assets of a similar business or the ownership interests in a similar legal entity, as applicable, including, without limitation, representations and warranties regarding:

   (i) Ownership and condition of and title to ownership interests and/or

   (ii) Liens and encumbrances relating to ownership interests and/or assets;

   (iii) Validity of contracts and the liabilities, contingent or otherwise, of the entity whose ownership interests are being purchased;

   (iv) All vehicles (if applicable) are in good working condition, and suitable for sale;

(v) No litigation or administrative proceedings pending against Franchisee, or any of its officers, directors, shareholders, members, or partner arising out of Franchisee's business.

(vi) There are no notices from any federal, state, or local government authority to make any changes to the Business or that negatively affect it.

(v) Franchisee has authority to sell the assets of its business, including a copy of all director, shareholder, member, or partner resolutions.

(vi) Franchisee will comply with the Bulk Sales Act, if required under the laws of Franchisee's state.

(vii) There will be no material adverse change in the operation of Franchisee's business between the Date of Signature of any Asset Purchase Agreement, and the Date of Settlement.

(viii) Franchisee will not enter into any transaction between the Date of Signature and the Date of Settlement other than in the ordinary course of business.

If Franchisee does not complete the sale to the proposed buyer within ninety (90) days after Franchisor notifies Franchisee that Franchisor does not intend to exercise its right of first refusal (whether or not the First Notice Deadline or the Due Diligence Deadline has expired), or if there is a material change in the terms of the sale (which Franchisee must communicate promptly to Franchisor), Franchisor will have an additional right to accept the sale during the thirty (30) day period following either the expiration of that ninety (90) day period or our receipt of notice of the material change(s) in the sale's terms, either on the terms originally offered or the modified terms, at Franchisor's option. If Franchisor once again does not do so, but Franchisee does not complete the sale to the proposed buyer within an additional ninety (90) days Franchisor notifies Franchisee of that fact, then any proposed sale or transfer thereafter once again must comply with all of the provisions of this SectionXXII.E, as though there had not previously been a proposed sale or transfer.

In addition to its other obligations such as obtaining the prior written approval of Franchisor, if Franchisee sells or offers to sell ownership interests, the sale of which is regulated by any applicable law, Franchisee must: (i) fully comply with all applicable laws, (ii) disclose to offerees and purchasers that neither Franchisor nor its employees, affiliates or agents are an issuer or underwriter, or are in any way liable or responsible for the offering, (iii) ensure that Franchisor has a reasonable time to the review any reference to Franchisor or its franchisees in any prospectus or offering documents before their distribution or use, (iv) pay Franchisor actual legal costs incurred for its review, (v) indemnify Franchisor, its officers, directors, employees, affiliates, and agents from any liability, cost, damage, claim, and expense and from ongoing obligations to shareholders and to government agencies arising out of or relating to the offer, sale or continuing investment, (vi) sign such further indemnities and provide such further assurances as Franchisor may reasonably require and (vii) disclose Franchisor's ownership rights to all trademarks, service marks, trade names, logos, trade secrets, copyrights, and patents.

If any provision of this Agreement is inconsistent with a valid applicable law, the provision will be deemed amended to conform to the minimum standards required. Franchisor and Franchisee may execute an addendum setting forth certain of these amendments applicable in certain jurisdictions, so long as and to the extent that then applicable laws referred to in the addenda remain in effect.

F. Resale Assistance of Franchised Business

Franchisee may, at any time, request Franchisor's assistance in locating a buyer for theTechKnowHow® business.Franchisor may, at Franchisor's option, provide such assistance in accordance with policies and procedures in the Operations Manual.Franchisor reserves the right to charge Franchisee a fee ("Resale Fee") to cover Franchisor's reasonable costs and expenses (including the time committed by Franchisor's employees) incurred in providing such assistance. If Franchisor elects to assist Franchisee in finding a buyer for the Business in any way, Franchisor makes no promises or commitments to Franchisee that a buyer will be located or that anyone will be willing to purchase the Business at a price acceptable to Franchisee. Franchisor reserves the right to reject any proposed sale based on Franchisor's determination, in Franchisor's sole discretion, that the purchase price or purchase terms agreed to between Franchisee and any prospective buyer is excessive or will not enable the buyer to succeed as a franchisee in the System, and by requesting Franchisor's assistance Franchisee waives any liability claims it may have against Franchisor for such rejection.

XXIII. TERMINATION OF FRANCHISE

A. Impact of Statutes On Franchise Agreement

The California Franchise Relations Act (Business and Professions Code, Section 20000 through 20043), became effective October 1, 1982. This Act provides certain rights to Franchisees located in California, including: (1) limitations on Franchisor's ability to terminate a franchise except for good cause; (2) restrictions on Franchisor's ability to deny renewal of a franchise; (3) circumstances under which Franchisor may be required to purchase certain inventory of Franchisees when a franchise is terminated or not renewed in violation of the statute; and (4) provisions relating to arbitration. C. Franchisee May Not Adopt Confusingly Similar Names and Marks

Franchisee agrees, in the event it continues to operate or subsequently begins to operate any other business, not to use any reproduction, counterfeit, copy or colorable imitation of the Names and Marks, either in connection with such other business or in the promotion thereof, which is likely to cause confusion, mistake or deception, or which is likely to dilute Franchisor's exclusive rights in and to the Names and Marks, and agrees not to utilize any designation of origin or description or representation which falsely suggests or represents an association or connection with Franchisor or a former association or connection with Franchisor.

D. Franchisee Shall Cancel Assumed Names and Transfer Phone Numbers

Franchisee further agrees that on termination or expiration of this Agreement, Franchisee shall take all action necessary to cancel all assumed names or equivalent registrations relating to its use of any or all of the Names and Marks. Franchisee shall take all actions necessary to transfer all phone numbers, addresses, domain names, email, listings and location contacts for the Businessto Franchisor or its designee, including but not limited to authorizing all telephone, Internet, Websites, email, electronic network, directory and listing entities to effectuate the same.

E. Franchisee Shall Transfer or Terminate Domain Name and Websites

On termination or expiration of this Agreement, Franchisee agrees that, Franchisor will have the absolute right to notify InterNIC, ICANN and all other Internet, social network, and like authorities of the termination or expiration of your right to use all domain names, Websites and other search engines for the Business and to authorize the above and other search engines to transfer to us or our designee all domain names, Websites and search engines associated with the Business. Franchisee acknowledges and agrees that we have the absolute right to, and interest in, all domain names, Websites and search engines related to the Business and that we have the full right and authority to direct the above Internet authorities and all search engines to transfer Franchisee's domain names, website and search engines to us or our designee if this Agreement expires or is terminated for any reason. Franchisee acknowledges that this Agreement will constitute a release by Franchisee of the above Internet authorities from any and all claims, liabilities, actions and damages that you may, at any time, have the right to allege against them in connection with this provision.

F. Franchisee Must Return Operations Manuals and Other Materials

Franchisee agrees that on termination or expiration of this Agreement, it will immediately return to Franchisor all copies of the Operation Manual, training materials, Curriculum and any other materials, which have been loaned to Franchisee by Franchisor. Franchisee agrees to turn over to Franchisor all items containing any of the Marks, and all customer lists and contracts for the franchised business.

G. Franchisor May PurchaseAssets

Franchisor shall have the first right of refusal to purchase or assume Franchisee's interest in the franchised business, or in its assets on the same terms as those contained in a bona fide offer from a third party. As used in this Section, "Assets" means all computers, products, Proprietary Products, furnishings, fixtures, décor items, vehicles (if applicable), signage, inventory (non-perishable products, supplies in addition to advertising and marketing materials), leasehold improvements and the lease or sublease for the Business (if applicable). This right is governed by time limits and procedures described in this Agreement with respect to Franchisor's right of refusal in the event of an assignment. If Franchisor exercises its right of first refusal, Franchisee must transfer Franchisee's interest in the franchised business and in the Assets.

If Franchisee is selling its Assets, Franchisor shall have the right (but not the duty), to be exercised by notice of intent to do so within thirty (30) days after termination or expiration, to purchase any or all Assets related to the operation of the Business and all items bearing Franchisor's Names and Marks, at the lesser of Franchisee's cost or fair market value. The cost shall be determined based on a five (5) year straight-line depreciation of Franchisee's original costs. For any Asset that is five (5) or more years old, the parties agree that fair market value shall be deemed to be ten percent (10%) of the Asset's original cost; and for any items that display the Marks, the fair market value is agreed to be zero. If Franchisor elects to exercise any option to purchase herein provided, it shall have the right to set off all amounts due from Franchisee.

H. Franchisee Must Pay Monies Owed to Franchisor; Liquidated Damages

Franchisee shall pay to Franchisor, within fifteen (15) days after the effective date of termination or expiration of this Agreement, such Royalty Fees, System Advertising Fund contributions, other advertising fees, payments or any other sums owed to Franchisor by Franchisee, which are then unpaid. Franchisee shall pay to Franchisor all damages, costs, and expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees, incurred by Franchisor in obtaining injunctive or other relief for the enforcement of any provisions of Section XIX.

In the event of termination of this Agreement prior to its expiration date, Franchisee acknowledges that it would be impossible to determine the amount of Franchisor's damages precisely, and Franchisee accordingly agrees that in such event it shall be obligated to pay to Franchisor, as liquidated damages, and not as a penalty, all Royalty and System Adverting Fee payments that Franchisor would have received, if this Agreement remained in effect until its scheduled expiration date. This payment shall be based on the average Royalty payment and average System Advertising Fundcontribution paid to Franchisor during the previous twelve (12) months for either the remaining term of this Agreement or a period of three (3) years (whichever comes first). Such payments shall be due to Franchisor within thirty (30) days after the effect Date of Termination or expiration.

Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, Franchisee shall retain whatever interest it may have in the Assets of the franchised business.

XXV. ENFORCEMENT

A. Franchisee May Not Withhold Payments Due Franchisor

Franchisee shall not withhold payments of any Royalty Fees, System Advertising Fees or any other amounts of money owed to Franchisor for any reason, on grounds of alleged nonperformance by Franchisor of any obligation. All such claims by Franchisee shall, if not otherwise resolved by Franchisor and Franchisee, be submitted to arbitration as provided in this Agreement.Franchisee has no right of offset, or set off to any amounts due and owing to Franchisor.

B. Severability and Substitution of Valid Provisions

All provisions of this Agreement are severable, and this Agreement shall be interpreted and enforced as if all completely invalid or unenforceable provisions were not contained herein, and any partially valid and enforceable provisions shall be enforced to the extent valid and enforceable. If any applicable law or rule requires a greater prior notice of the termination of this Agreement than is required hereunder, or requires the taking of some other action not required hereunder, the prior notice or other action required by such law or rule shall be substituted for the notice or other requirements.

C. Mediation

The parties agree to mediate any dispute or claim arising between them out of this Agreement, or any resulting transaction before resorting to arbitration as set forth in Section XXV.E. Any party to this Agreement may initiate mediation by serving a written demand on the other party stating the particulars of the demand being served. Mediation fees shall be divided equally among the parties involved. Before any mediation commences, the parties will agree to a date and/or certain event which will constitute a completion of the mediation process. If, for any dispute or claim to which this paragraph applies, any party commences an action without first attempting to resolve the matter through mediation or refuses to mediate after a request has been made, then the other party ("Mediating Party") shall be entitled to recover attorney's fees and costs, even if such Mediating Party was not otherwise entitled to recover its attorney fees and cost in any arbitration or legal action between the parties pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. This mediation provision applies whether or not the arbitration provision is initiated. It shall be held at the same venue as for arbitration as described in Section XXV.E.

D. Exceptions to Mediation.

The mediation provision in Section XXV.C. shall not apply to any action for injunctive or other provisional relief, including, without limitation, enforcement of liens, security agreements, or attachment, as Franchisor deeds to be necessary or appropriate to compel Franchisee to comply with Franchisee's obligations to Franchisor and/or to protect the Marks. Any claim or dispute involving or contesting the validity of any of the Marks shall not be subject to mediation.

E. Arbitration

Except as Franchisor elects to enforce this Agreement by judicial process, injunction, or specific performance (as provided above), all disputes and claims relating to any provision hereof, any specification, standard or operating procedure, or any other obligation of Franchisee prescribed by Franchisor, or any obligation of Franchisor, or the breach thereof (including, without limitation, any specification, standard or operating procedure or any other obligation of Franchisee or Franchisor, which is illegal or otherwise unenforceable or voidable under any law, ordinance, or ruling) shall be settled by mandatory binding arbitration in San Mateo County, California. Arbitration must be in accordance with the then current Commercial Rules of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") and, where applicable, the provision of the Federal Arbitration Act, i.e. 9 USC §1, et al; and provided that at the option of Franchisor or Franchisee that the arbitrator shall be selected from a list of retired federal or state judges supplied by the American Arbitration Association which could include an attorney with twenty years or more franchise experience. The actual selection of the arbitrator from the list will be in accordance with the procedures for selecting an arbitrator under the Commercial Rules of the AAA. The parties agree that, in connection with any such arbitration proceeding, each will submit or file any claim which would constitute a compulsory counterclaim (as defined by Rule 1-3 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure) within the same proceeding as the claim to which it relates. The parties agree that arbitration will be conducted on an individual and not a class-wide or multiple plaintiff basis.

The party discovering an arbitrable claim will have one (1) year from the date of discovery but not to exceed two (2) years from the date the claim occurred, to settle the claim or commence arbitration on it.Otherwise the claim or demand will be deemed abandoned and shall be barred. The arbitrator shall allow discovery in accordance with the California Rules of Civil Procedure and may apply the sanctions relating to noncompliance with discovery orders therein provided. The arbitrator shall issue a written opinion explaining the reasons for his or her decision and award and the arbitrator shall have the right to award or include in the award the specific performance of this Agreement. Unless specifically provided for by applicable statue, no punitive or exemplary damages shall be awarded against either Franchisor or Franchisee, or entities related to them, in an arbitration proceeding or otherwise, and are waived. Judgment on the award of the arbitrator will be entered in any court having competent jurisdiction thereof or ofFranchisor of Franchisee. During the pendency of any arbitration proceeding hereunder, Franchisee and Franchisor shall fully perform their respective obligations pursuant to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Arbitration fees shall be shared equally and the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover reasonable attorney fees from the other party, provided should there be no prevailing party each party shall pay their own attorney fees.

This arbitration provision shall not apply to any of the following disputes or controversies: any action for injunctive or other provisional relief including but not limited to enforcement of liens, security agreements, or attachment, as Franchisor deems to be necessary or appropriate to compel Franchisee to comply with Franchisee's obligations to Franchisor and/or to protect the Names and Marks or any claim or dispute involving or contesting the validity of any of the Names and Marks, or any claim or dispute involving any of the Confidential Information, trade secrets, or copyrights provided by Franchisor to Franchisee under this Agreement.

F. Rights of Parties Are Cumulative

The rights of Franchisor and Franchisee are cumulative, and the exercise or enforcement by Franchisor or Franchisee of any right or remedy shall not preclude the exercise or enforcement by Franchisor or Franchisee of any other right or remedy hereunder which Franchisor or Franchisee is entitled by law to enforce by the provisions of this Agreement or of the Operations Manual.

G. Judicial Enforcement, Injunction and SpecificPerformance

Franchisor shall have the right to enforce by judicial process its right to terminate this Agreement for the causes enumerated in Section XXIII of this Agreement, to collect any amounts owed to Franchisor for any unpaid Royalty Fees, or other unpaid charges due hereunder, arising out of the business conducted by Franchisee pursuant hereto, and to pursue any rights it may have under any leases, subleases, sales, purchases, or security agreements or other agreements with Franchisee. Franchisor shall be entitled, without bond, to the entry of temporary or permanent injunctions and orders of specific performance enforcing any of the provisions of this Agreement. If Franchisor secures any such injunction or orders of specific performance, Franchisee agrees to pay to Franchisor an amount equal to the aggregate costs of obtaining such relief, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees, costs of investigation, court costs, and other litigation expenses, travel and living expenses, and any damages incurred by Franchisor as a result of the breach of any provision of this Agreement.

H. California Law Applies

This Agreement takes effect upon its acceptance and execution by Franchisor in California, and shall be interpreted and construed under the laws of California. In the event of any conflict of law, the laws of California shall prevail, without regard to the application of California conflict of law rules. If, however, any provision of this Agreement would not be enforceable under the laws of California, and if the TechKnowHow® business is located outside of California and such provision would be enforceable under the laws of the state in which the TechKnowHow® business is located, then such provision shall be interpreted and construed under the laws of that state. Nothing in this Section XXV.H. is intended by the parties to subject this Agreement to any franchise or similar law, rules, or regulation of any state to which it would not otherwise be subject.

I. Attorney Fees

If a party incurs any expenses (including but not limited to reasonable attorneys fees and reasonable expert witness fees) in enforcing the provisions of this Agreement by arbitration or legal action, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover such expenses directly from the other.

J. Binding Effect

This Agreement is binding on the parties and their permitted assigns and successors in interest.

K. Entire Agreement/Integration

This Agreement and all exhibits to this Agreement constitute the entire agreement between the parties and supersede any and all prior negotiations, understandings, representations, and agreements. Nothing in this or in any related agreement, however, is intended to disclaim the representations we made in the Franchise Disclosure Document that we furnished to you. Except for those acts permitted to be made unilaterally by Franchisor hereunder, no amendment, change, or variance from this Agreement shall be binding on either party unless mutually agreed to by the parties and executed by their authorized officers or agents in writing. The Operation Manual may be amended at any time by Franchisor, and Franchisee shall adapt its methods or procedures to comply with the requirements thereof.

L. Force Majeure

Except for monetary obligations or as otherwise specifically provided in this Franchise Agreement, if either party to this Agreement shall be delayed or hindered in or prevented from the performance of any act required under this Agreement by reason of strikes, lock-outs, labor troubles, inability to procure materials, failure of power, restrictive government laws or regulations, riots, insurrection, war, or other causes beyond the reasonable control of the party required to perform such work or act under the terms of this Agreement not the fault of such party, then performance of such act shall be excused for the period of the delay, but in no event to exceed ninety (90) days from the stated time periods as set forth in this Franchise Agreement.

XXVI. NOTICES

Any and all notices required or permitted under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be personally delivered, sent by registered mail, or by other means which affords the sender evidence of delivery, or of rejected delivery, to the respective parties at the addresses shown on the signature page of this Agreement, unless and until a different address has been designated by written notice to the other party. Any notice by a means which affords the sender evidence of delivery, or rejected delivery, shall be deemed to have been given at the date and time of receipt or rejected delivery.

XXVII. COUNTERPARTS

This Agreement and any amendments or supplements hereto may be executed in any number of counterparts and by different parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be deemed an original, but all of which counterparts together shall constitute but one and the same instrument. This Agreement shall become effective on the execution of a counterpart hereof by each of the parties hereto.

XXVIII. TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE

Time is of the essence. The parties to this Agreement agree that time is of the essence with respect to each of their respective duties and obligations under this Agreement.

XXIX. APPROVALS AND WAIVERS

Whenever this Agreement requires prior approval or consent of Franchisor, Franchisee shall make a timely written request to Franchisor therefore, and such approval or consent shall be obtained in writing.

Franchisor makes no warranties or guarantees on which Franchisee may rely, and assumes no liability or obligation to Franchisee, by providing any waiver, approval, consent, or suggestion to Franchisee or in connection with any consent, or by reason of any neglect, delay, or denial of any request therefore.

No failure of Franchisor to exercise any power reserved to it by this Agreement or to insist on strict compliance by Franchisee with any obligation or condition hereunder, and no custom or practice of the parties at variance with the terms hereof, shall constitute a waiver of Franchisor's right to demand exact compliance with any of the terms herein. Waiver by Franchisor of any particular default or breach by Franchisee shall not affect or impair Franchisor's rights with respect to any subsequent default or breach of the same, similar or different nature, nor shall any delay, forbearance, or omission, breach or default by Franchisor to exercise any power or right arising out of any breach or default by Franchisee of any of the terms, provisions, or covenants hereof, affect or impair Franchisor's right to exercise the same, nor shall such constitute a waiver by Franchisor of any preceding breach by Franchisee of any terms, covenants or conditions of this Agreement.

XXX. AUTHORITY

Franchisee or, if Franchisee is a corporation, limited liability company or partnership, the individuals executing this Agreement on behalf of such corporation, limited liability company or partnership, warrant to Franchisor, both individually and in their capacities as owners or officers, that all of them as the case may be, have read and approved this Agreement, including the restrictions which this Agreement places on their right to transfer their respective interests in such entity as set forth in Section XXII.

   The Franchise Agreement provides for termination upon bankruptcy. This provision may not be enforceable under federal bankruptcy law (11 U.S.C.A. Sec. 101 et seq.).

   The Franchise Agreement and Area Development Agreement contain a covenant not to compete which extends beyond the termination of the franchise.

The Franchise Agreement contains a liquidated damages clause. Under California Civil Code Section 1671, certain liquidated damages clauses are unenforceable.

3. Item 5 of the Disclosure Document is amended as follows:

"Despite the payment provisions in this Item 5, the initial franchise fee due to us will be deferred until we have completed all of our material initial obligations to you under the Franchise Agreement, at which time the initial franchise fee will be immediately due and payable to us."

WASHINGTON
ADDENDUM TO DISCLOSURE DOCUMENT

The following paragraph is added at the end of Item 17:

> If any of the provisions in this Disclosure Document or Franchise Agreement are inconsistent with the relationship provisions of Revised Code of Washington Section 19.100.180 or any other requirements of the Washington Franchise Investment Protection Act (the "Act"), the provisions of the Act will prevail over the inconsistent terms of the Disclosure Document or Franchise Agreement.

WASHINGTON
ADDENDUM TO FRANCHISE AGREEMENT

In recognition of the requirements of the Washington Franchise Investment Protection Act (RCW 19.100.180), the parties to the attached Franchise Agreement agree as follows:

The State of Washington has a statute, the Washington Franchise Investment Protection Act, RCW 19.100.180 (the "Act"), which might supersede this Agreement in Franchisee's relationship with Franchisor, including the areas of termination and renewal of Franchisee's franchise. There might also be court decisions which supersede the Agreement in Franchisee's relationship with Franchisor, including termination and renewal of Franchisee's franchise.

In any arbitration involving a franchise purchased in Washington, the arbitration site shall be either in the State of Washington, or in a place mutually agreed upon at the time of the arbitration, or as determined by the arbitrator.

In the event of a conflict of laws, to the extent required by the Act, the provisions of the Act, Chapter 19.100 RCW, shall prevail.

To the extent required by the Act, a release or waiver of rights executed by Franchisee shall not include rights under the Act, except when executed pursuant to a negotiated settlement after the Agreement is in effect and where the parties are represented by independent counsel. Provisions such as those which unreasonably restrict or limit the statute of limitations period for claims under the Act, or rights or remedies under the Act, such as a right to a jury trial, might not be enforceable.

To the extent required by the Act, transfer fees are collectable to the extent that they reflect Franchisor's reasonable estimate or actual costs in effecting a transfer.

Pursuant to RCW 19.100.050 and WAC 460-80-400 through 450 the Franchisor agrees that: (1) One hundred percent (100%) of franchise fees will be deferred until the Franchisor has fulfilled its initial pre-opening obligations and the Franchisee is open for business; and (2) upon completion of the initial pre-opening obligations and once the Franchisee is open for business, the Franchisor will invoice the Franchisee for payment of the franchise fees, and, the Franchisee will provide 100% of the franchise fees to the Franchisor no later than seven (7) days after receipt of the invoice.

NOTE 1 – BUSINESS ACTIVITY

TKH Franchising, Inc. was incorporated in the state of California on February 29, 2012; the Company is in the business of offering franchises to operate a mobile business offering engineering and technology project-based programs onsite. Unless otherwise indicated, the terms "we," "us," "our," and "Company" refer to TKH Franchising, Inc.

The Company's activities are subject to significant risks and uncertainties, including failing to secure additional funding to operationalize the Company's current concepts including the risk that the entity may be affected by rapidly changing and intensely competitive market.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Revenue Recognition

The company will receive an initial franchise fee from each franchise sale and continuing royalty fees from operating franchises over the life of the franchise. Initial franchise fees are recognized as revenue when all material services or conditions relating to the sale has been substantially performed or satisfied. Continuing royalty fees are considered earned when they become due from the franchisee.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Company maintains cash in bank and deposit accounts, which at times may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts. The Company believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash and cash equivalents.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Long-Lived Assets

The Company reviews long-lived assets to be held and used by an entity for impairment whenever changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. As there are no owned assets for the years ended December 31, 2016 and 2017, no impairment of the carrying values of its long-lived assets existed at December 31, 2016 and 2017. There can be no assurance, however, that demands for the Company's products or market conditions will not change which could result in impairment losses in the future.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, continued

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation and amortization are generally provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets which ranges between 3 to 10 years. At December 31, 2016 and 2017, the Company did not own any fixed assets.

Income Taxes

Deferred taxes are provided on liability method whereby deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences and operating losses and tax credit carryforwards, and deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences. Temporary differences are the differences between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax bases. The deferred tax liability relates primarily to differences in methods of accounting for long-term contracts for financial reporting and income tax purposes. The deferred tax asset is adjusted for the effects of changes in tax laws and rates on the date of the enactment.

Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP"). The preparation of these financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates made by the Company's management include, but are not limited to, allowances for doubtful accounts and contracts receivable, the allowance for losses on contracts in process and the percentage of completion on uncompleted contracts. Actual results could materially differ from those estimates.

Fair Value of Financial Assets and Liabilities

We measure and disclose certain financial assets and liabilities at fair value. ASC Topic 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, defines fair value as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. ASC Topic 820 also establishes a fair value hierarchy which requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1 - Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities.

We utilize the active market approach to measure fair value for our financial assets and liabilities. We report separately each class of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis and include assets and liabilities that are disclosed but not recorded at fair value in the fair value hierarchy.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The Company's management has evaluated recently issued accounting pronouncements through December 31, 2016 and 2017 and concluded that they will not have a material effect on the financial statements as of December 31, 2016 and 2017. However, for purpose of financial reporting the Company has elected early adoption of Accounting Standards Update No. 2014-10, issued June 10, 2014, which removes the definition of a development stage entity from ASC Topic 915 and all distinction between development stage entities and other reporting entities under GAAP. As a result, we no longer report financial results showing inception to date.

NOTE 3 – INVENTORY

Inventory consists of LEGO supplies with the amount of $14,321. Inventory is valued using lower of cost or market on specifically identified items.

NOTE 4 – DUE TO/FROM SHAREHOLDER

Miscellaneous business expenses incurred by the Company and is initially paid for by the Shareholder of the Company during the day to day operations. The balance is reimbursed to the Shareholder in less than one year. As of December 31, 2016 and 2017, there were no balance due to the Shareholder.

NOTE 5 – INCOME TAXES

Income taxes are provided for the tax effects of transactions reported in the financial statements and consist of taxes currently due plus deferred taxes related to differences between the basis of assets and liabilities for financial and income tax reporting. The deferred tax assets and liabilities represent the future tax consequences of those differences, which will either be taxable or deductible when the assets and liabilities are recovered or settled. The provision differs from the expense that would result from applying federal statutory rates to income before income taxes primarily due to state income taxes and certain non-deductible expenses.

NOTE 6 – RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company has an affiliate, TechKnowHow, offering summer technology programs and operating in the same location. There is one common and 100% shareholder for both the Company and its affiliate. From time to time there will be a limited number of transactions between the Company and TechKnowHow such as short-term loans, with no interest and is paid in less than twelve months.

NOTE 7 – GOING CONCERN

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applicable to a going concern which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities and commitments in the normal course of business. The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is contingent upon raising additional capital and starting the operations. Amounts raised will be used for further development of the Company's concept, to provide financing for marketing and promotion and for other working capital purposes. While the Company is putting forth its best efforts to achieve the above plans, there is no assurance that any such activity will generate funds that will be available for operations.

NOTE 8 – SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through February 16, 2018, the date which the financial statements were available to be issued and nothing has occurred that would require disclosure.
